THE BATES MIRROR

Dedication

Wise friend, great soul, and high unconquered heart,
Tho we may not attend you any more,
You will go with us down the years before.
In every soul you hold a place alone,
Like rare old music echoed tone by tone.
Unstintingly to us yourself you gave,
In loving sacrifice, sincere and brave.
Gay comrade — you have smiled thru all your part.
The utter wonder of you shall come back
To haunt us on a far-off, lonely day
When we desire to think on something true—
For Life, at best, is pitiful with lack—
And your undaunted spirit light our way,
We shall lift up our heads, and breathe, remembering you.

"Bea"

"Being myself no stranger to sufferings,
I have learned to relieve the sufferings of others."

Born April 21, 1900, Wilton, Me.; Winthrop High School; Y. W. C. A. Cabinet, 3; Social Service Committee, 3, 4; Entre Nous; Deutsche Verein, 4; Ramsdell Scientific, 4; Glee Club, 4; Hiking, 4; Student Volunteers, Secretary and Treasurer, 3, 4.

If anyone has any ailment, real or imagined, "Bea" is our district nurse and if you don't feel tip-top before you're half sick,—well it isn't any fault of hers. When she gets up there in Alaska or Greenland she will only have to sing a little song to keep Jack Frost away, gather all her resources of good cheer, perseverance, and faith, add a little knowledge of the ways of human nature, and all evils will vanish from her missionary station in short order. Our best wishes go with you, "Bea".

Ester Andersen, A. B.

"There's nothing ill can dwell in such a temple;
If the ill have so fair a house,
Good things will strive to dwell within."

Born July 30, 1891, Ulefoss, Norway; Baptist Missionary Training School of Chicago; Wayland Academy, Beaver Dam, Wisconsin; Y. W. C. A., Bible Study Committee, 2, Cabinet, 3; Entre Nous; Seniority; Phil-Hellenic, 2, Vice-President, 3; Student Volunteers, Deputation Committee, 2, Program Committee, 3; Honor Student; Phi Beta Kappa.

Several years ago a girl in the far country of Norway yearned to go to America to secure an education and become a religious teacher. Filled by pluck far beyond what most of us have, she came to this New World and eventually entered Bates as a valued member of 1923. Her Christian spirit, her never failing zeal, and her originality have been of great service to college activities. We shall follow her career with interest for we feel from past records the conviction of her success in making her dreams of the College for girls in Norway come true.

Jeanne Cecile Bachelin, A. B.

What made you think I did?
Ask questions? Why, I never do,
Who told you so? How long ago?
Is that so? What? She did?

Born, November 2, 1900. Fall River, Mass.; Rumford, Me., Stephens High School; Entre Nous; Winner of Freshman Prize Speaking; Sophomore Prize Speaking; Alethea; Press Club; Macfarlane, 3, 4; Cercle Francais, 1, 2, vice-president, 3, president, 4; Glee Club, 1, 2, 3, 4; Choir, 4; Hockey 2nd, 1, 2, 4; Volleyball 2nd, 3, 4; Basketball 2nd, 3, 4; Soccer, 2; Hiking, 3, 4; Numerals; French assistant.

Wherever you find Jeanne you are sure to see a pair of big beaming brown eyes and hear an irresistible giggle. It is hard to group Jeanne's most striking characteristics under any of the laws of unity and coherence because of her varied accomplishments as you can see from the above list. A very busy lady with her French assistantship, her social service work, and her good times.

Esther Augusta Baker, A. B.

"Billie"

"How far the little candle throws its beam!"

Born, June 9, 1901, Conway, N. H.; Kennebunkport High School; Class Secretary, 4; Y. W. C. A., Finance Committee, 4; Entre Nous; Seniority; Cercle Francais, 1, 4; Phil-Hellenic, 2, 3, 4; Hockey, 2, 3, 4; Hiking, 3, 4; Soccer, 3; Numerals; Honor Student.

"Good things are done up in small packages". When we first gazed upon Billie's minute body we remembered that good old proverb. She has surely been no exception to it. She is the best little sport, ready for any task or any kind of good fun. And do you ever remember of seeing her cross? Never! She is one of those rare persons who meet the world with the same even disposition and you just feel glad that you have a friend like Billie.

Mildred Frances Baker, A. B.

"Mil"

"She hath a natural wise sincerity,
A simple truthfulness and these have lent her
A dignity as moveless as the center."

Born, November 14, 1901, Randolph, Maine; Gardiner High School; Y. W. C. A., Social Service Committee, 4; Debating Council, 3, 4; Sophomore Prize Debate; Student Board; Bates Publishing Association Secretary, 4; Entre Nous; Seniority; Cercle Francais, 1; Phil-Hellenic, 3, Secretary, 4; Hockey, 2, 3, 4; Volley Ball, 2, 3, 2nd team, 4; Basket Ball 2nd, 2, 3, 4; Numerals; Assistantship in History, 4; Honor Student; Phi Beta Kappa.

You can see by the length of Mil's activities that she is a very much alive sort of person. The profs! Oh my,—they just look over the heads of us poor ignoramuses at her shining halo. But there is distinctly a contagious side to Mil. You can't be with her five minutes before you are thoroughly enjoying a good hearty laugh.

Theodora Rose Barentzen, A. B.

"Teddy"

"Wit, goodness, grace, swift flash from grave to gay."

Born, March 20, 1901, Ossining, N. Y.; Cony High School; Y. W. C. A., Town Committee, 1, 2, 3, 4, Chairman, 3; Junior Exhibition; Ivy Ode; Student Board, 3, 4, Women's Editor, 3; Mirror Board; Entre Nous; Seniority; Ramsdell Scientific, 3, 4, President, 4; Phil-Hellenic, 2, 3, 4; Spofford, 3, 4; Assistant in Geology and Argumentation; Freshman Greek Prize; Honor Student; Phi Beta Kappa; Class Day Ode.

"Some like 'em hot; some like 'em cold", but everybody likes Teddy every way. She bursts on a studious group with "Listen girls, I've got kind of a funny joke to tell you", and Ted tells us some witty little paragraph and probably has to explain it to us,—but does it all with unfailing mirth. Her being is filled with romance and into the drabbiest existence she could inject a thrill.

Raymond James Batten, B. S.

"Vamp," "Ray"

"I would share the joyous comradeship of honest first-name friends."

Born, March 9, 1901, Meriden, Conn.; Wakefield High School, Wakefield, Mass.; Politics Club, 3, 4; Military Science, 3, 4; Student Council, 2, 3, 4, President, 4; Outing Club Director, 3, 4; Varsity Club, 2, 3, 4; Athletic Council, 3, 4; Track, 1, 2, 3, 4; Cross Country, 1, 2, 3, 4, Captain, 4; Hockey, 3, 4.

He is a quiet chap, this man whom we call the "Vamp," yet he has been an important factor in the success of the class of '23. Whether for a college function, a social affair, an outing on the river-bank or Pole Hill, or a cross country run, Ray is always on hand, ready and willing to help. His readiness to assist and his dependability has won him many friends. The presidency of the Student Council testifies to his popularity. Ray is a man of whom we all are proud. Oh, that name "Vamp?" Well,—ask him.

Herbert Romanzo Bean, A. B.

"Bert"

"Let's talk of things that matter — your car or the newest play."

Born, February 5, 1897, Brooklyn, N. Y.; Gould's Academy; Class President, 1; Y. M. C. A., 1, 2, 3, 4; Military Science, 1, 2, 3, 4, President, 4; Phil-Hellenic, 2, 3, 4; Outing Club, 1, 2, 3, 4; Football, Assistant Manager, 3, Manager, 4; Ivy Day Speaker.

"This is a dull, lonesome life," quoth he, and forthwith Bert departed the forbidding halls of the Monastery, forever renouncing the bachelorhood he so gaily entered on four years ago. Bert is married but, in spite of this handicap (although he assures us it is not one), he has given much of his time to campus and class-room affairs. As our first class president he did a good job. We were proud of him as a football manager. He has done excellently with Military Science. We feel sure Bert will always perform his tasks in life with the same zeal he has displayed while in college. "More power to ye, Old Man."

Amy Viola Blaisdell, A. B.

"And as imagination bodies forth
The forms of things unknown, the poet's pen
Turns them to shapes, and gives to airy nothing
A local habitation to a name."

Born, August 31, 1899, York, Maine; York High School; Y. W. C. A.; Ivy Day Speaker, Ivy Poem; Student Board, Woman's Editor; Mirror Board, Assistant Literary Editor; Press Club, 3, 4, Vice President; Entre Nous; Enkuklios; Alethea, President; Seniority, 4; Cercle Francais, 3, 4; Spofford, 3, 4; Secretary-Treasurer; Class Day Poem.

Amy is our literary star. When we want a poem about any subject in the universe, Amy from her poetic depths produces it. When we want a delightfully thrilling story, we go to the same unfailing source. We owe to her a good bit for the fame she has added to our class. Not only is Amy a literary genius but she has a great loving heart full of sympathy and kindness for the unfortunate one in trouble.

DEBORAH BLOSSOM, A.B.

"She's such a peach!"

Born Turner Center, Maine; Leavitt Institute; Y. W. C. A., 1, 2, 3, 4.

Her set expression (see above), just describes Deborah. You would never realize that she was around but get her started on her adventures in Porto Rico or tales of "What we used to do," then you know she's right there. Deborah studies and studies — but sometimes she emerges — and then! She's such an understanding sort of person, too. Here's to you, Deborah.

MARGARET ALICE BLOUIN

"Art alone supplies an enjoyment."

Born, November 10, 1900, Lewiston, Maine; Jordan High School; Y. W. C. A.; Outing Club; Mirror Board; Entre Nous; Enkuklios, 1, 2, 3, 4; Macfarlane, 4; Cercle Francais, 1, 2, 3, 4; Deutsche Verein, 1, 2, 3, 4; Hiking, 1, 2, 3, 4; Assistant in Public Speaking, 4; Million Dollar Play, 3; Coach of Junior Play, The Florist Shop.

Paris! New York! Pall Mall! The Elite Magazine! To say nothing of a swell originality of costume that springs from the well balanced head of Margaret Alice Blouin. She has never been excited over anything. Remember the fairy story about the Ice-hearted Princess? She had a lump of ice instead of a heart, until the Prince came and restored the flesh-and-blood organ. The prince hasn't come yet,—at least, we haven't seen him, but there are rumors, rumors. Alice has the artistic exterior if not the interior,—which means temperament. She would never burst into tears of vexation because a line or a word was wrong,—she wouldn't have to,—because it would not be wrong. Withal, she's a very keen ridiculist, has a dangerous sense of humor, and is a lot of fun.

HAROLD LAWRENCE BRADFORD, B. S.

"Brad"

"And then, in dreaming, the clouds one thought would open and show riches ready to drop upon one, that, when I waked,
I cried to dream again." — Shakespeare.

Born August 6, 1900, Hebron, Maine; Canton High School; Y. M. C. A., 1, 2, 3, 4; Military Science, 2, 3, 4; Jordan Scientific, 4; Outing Club, 4; Musical Clubs, 3, 4; Business Manager Bates Student, 3; Business Manager, Mirror.

"Brad" is the business man of the class; both he and his black student bag are a familiar sight roaming around the campus and to and fro from town. It's hard to tell whether Harold spends more time at the college or downtown and it isn't always business which takes him down either. He had the difficult problem of piloting this Mirror over the rocky path and we'll all say he did a mighty good job. Regardless of what "Brad" undertakes we predict a bright future for the erstwhile "bomber" of the S. A. T. C.

HAROLD CUTHBERT BURDON, A.B.

"I dare do all that may become a man;
Who dares do more is none."

Born October 20, 1896, Hubbardston, Mass.; Springfield High School; Monson Academy; Class Offices, Chaplain, 3, 4; Y. M. C. A., Cabinet, 4; Politics Club, 3, 4; Treasurer, 4; Military Science Club, 3, 4; Debating Council, 3, 4, Vice-President, 4; Outing Club, 1, 2, 3, 4; Freshman Prize Speaking; Sophomore Debate; Ivy Day Speaker; BATES STUDENT Board, 2, 3, News Editor, 3; Bates Publishing Association, President, 3; MIRROR Board; Class Day Speaker.

Here is a successful man. Look at his list of activities. He has been as successful as he has been busy but in spite of his limited leisure he has found time somehow, somewhere, for co-education and in that he has been more than just successful. We all wish you the best of luck, Harold, in spite of the fact that we know you do not depend wholly on luck. Here's to success!

HELEN IRENE BURTON, A. B.

"There is a kind of character in thy life,
That, to the observer, doth thy history
Fully unfold."

Born, August 29, 1898, Bucksport, Maine; Bangor High School; Y. W. C. A., Cabinet, 4; Entre Nous; Enkuklios; Phil-Hellenic, 2, 3, 4; Student Volunteer Group, 2, 3, 4; Deputation Com. Chairman, 4.

When you know Helen as some of her nearest friends know her you have discovered one of the richest and truest of comrades. Her strong, Christian personality has a very helpful, uplifting influence upon those with whom she comes in daily contact. But it is with her accordion, accompanied by her sweet, clear voice that she is best known to the outside world. Helen's voice and her music will never cease to attract those whom she serves, and from her deep spiritual nature they will find the help they need.

HERBERT ALLEN CARROLL, A. B.

"And when a woman's in the case,
You know all other things give place."

Born, May 23, 1897, Greenfield, Mass.; Greenfield High School; Committee Chairman, Y. M. C. A., 4; Politics Club, 3, 4, Secretary, 4; Phil-Hellenic Club, 1, 2, 3, 4; Spofford Club, 2, 3, 4; Managing Editor, Bates Student, 3; Debating Council, 3, 4; Outing Club, 1, 2, 3, 4; Press Club, 3; Mirror Board, 4; Class Track, 3; Assistant Tennis Manager, 2; Freshman and Sophomore Prize Public Speaking Division; Greek Prize; Best Speaker, Sophomore Debate; Junior Exhibition; English Assistantship, 3, 4; Sophomore Scholarship; Coe Scholarship; Honor Student; Phi Beta Kappa.

Althugh Herbert says he is going to be a teacher he has been having considerable success this year as a preacher. He is usually a rather quiet chap but when he gets started — O Boy! — the muses sit up and take notice. His popularity is vouched for by the above imposing list of activities. His versatility is acknowledged, and is accentuated by various co-educational experiences embracing many———(Exactly! Embracing Many.) We prophesy for Herbert a very successful future.

Marian Vaeiletta Chick, A.B.

"Knowledge comes but wisdom lingers."

Born September 18, 1903, Monmouth, Maine; Monmouth Academy; Y. W. C. A.; Seniority, 4; Ramsdell Scientific, 4; Hockey, 2, 3; Baseball 2nd, 3; Soccer, 1, 3, 2nd, 2; Honor Student.

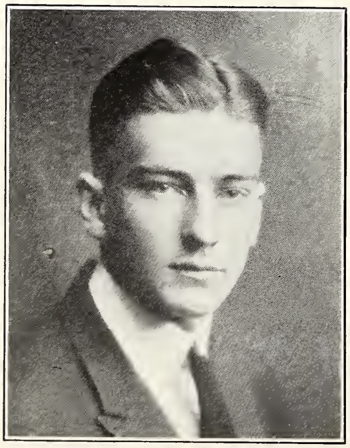
Ladies and gentlemen, you here see before you one who is endowed with the phenomenal grace of knowing all there is to be known about anything without causing any ill feeling. Even Mony cannot keep a surprised look out of his "balefully rolling" eyes when Marian fails to answer one of his questions. But have you ever seen Marian write a paper, prepare a lesson, or get ready for a quiz? Of course you haven't for she is always reading modern fiction and doesn't begin to study until the rest of us are on our way to class. May she be as successful in after life as in college.

Dorothy May Churchill, A.B.

"A winning way, a pleasant smile."

Born Richmond, Maine; Milo High School; Y. W. C. A., 1, 2, 3, 4; Enkuklios, 1, 2, 3; Entre Nous, 1; Deutsche Verein, 3, 4.

Dorothy entered with us in our Senior year and promptly became a loyal 1923 girl. Altho she is quiet and reserved compared to some of us who shriek wildly on our way, she "gets there" very efficiently. Dot doesn't talk much about herself, but some of us who know her appreciate her poetry and essays, her love of beauty, and real strength of spirit. A sense of humour true will help her over any snags. Whatever career she enters cannot fail to be interesting.



Burton Kinney Clifford, B.S.

"When the fight begins within himself
A man's worth something."

Born March 31, 1901, South Paris, Maine; Paris High School; Y. M. C. A., 1, 2, 3, 4; Outing Club, 1, 2, 3, 4; Football (squad), 1, 2, 3, 4; Track (squad), 1; Hockey (class), 3, 4.

"Limber Lill" has always been a popular leader of activities during his four years in college and has ever been a booster of Bates. He has boosted countless freshmen into side-door Pullmans, cared for them, and piloted them safely through on every freight car expedition to Bates athletic contests. It only goes to show how capable he is of caring for himself and of making his own way in the world. Burton (doesn't that sound strange?) has the sincere wishes of his classmates for success; but that goes without saying.

Neil Rendall Conant, B. S.

"Why layest thou the lyre aside?"

Born April 5, 1900, Auburn, Maine; Edward Little High School; Deutsche Verein, 3, 4; MacFarlane Club, 2, 3, 4; Mandolin Club, 2, 3; Glee Club, 2, 3; Advertising Manager Bates Student, 3, 4.

Neil is one of the local boys in one sense, at least he lives in Auburn, but he prefers to room in Parker Hall, which is saying a whole lot for the domicile. We see so little of Neil that we hardly know him, but for all that, you can see by looking at his record that he has been quite prominent in collegiate activities. Neil's professional talent on the violin is well known to every town where the Musical Clubs have performed, and he was always called back for an encore. In the same manner Neil we hope to call you back for an encore when we meet again!

Alice Beulah Cottle, A. B.

"The maid who modestly conceals
Her beauties, while she hides, reveals."

Born, March 31, 1901, Lexington, Maine; Farmington High School; Y. W. C. A., 1, 2, 3; Enkuklios, 1; Seniority; Glee Club, 1, 2; Basketball, 1, 2, 3, 4, Captain, 3 4.

Remember the quiet little girl with brown eyes who made guard on the freshman basketball team? That same girl is about the keenest, kindest, jolliest,—but why go on? She has a wicked sense of humor; when that little glint comes into her eyes, and that grin creeps around her mouth, you may be sure something is on the way. Al has been a demoniacal guard since our first year, and perhaps in the game developed the skill to manage about four hundred dirty, squirmy, playground kids and remain immaculate and calm-tempered through it all.

Alice Maud Crossland, A. B.

"Tom"

Born, August 24, 1901, Washington, D. C.; Portland High School; Y. W. C A.. Conventions Committee, 3, 4; Student Gov. Board, 3, 4; Secretary, 3; Outing Club Director, 4; Entre Nous; Alethea, 3; Seniority, 4; Phil-Hellenic, 1, 2, 3, 4; Hockey, 1, 2; Hiking, Captain, 3; Volley Ball, 1, 2; Basketball, 2nd, 2; Soccer, 1, 2, Captain, 2; Tennis, 1, 2; Numerals; "B"; Athletic Board, 3; Ivy Day Committee.

Old Prayer:
Oh Lord, bless me and my wife
My son John and his wife
Us four and no more. Amen.

Adapted:
Oh Lord, bless me and my roommate "Zip"
Our tooth brush and boracic acid
Us four and no more. Amen.

Don't you enjoy seeing a real wide-awake, 20th century girl who can put anything across and not inconvenience herself in so doing? Tom is a famous perpetrator of all the latest jokes. Just how she lost her Phi Beta Kappa key is a problem to be solved, but it may be in the fact that she is such a full fledged, medalized, peruser of the Metropolitan.

Alice Jane Cunningham, A. B.

"Preferring to the lettered sage
The square of the hypothenuse."

Born, May 8, 1902, Gardiner, Maine; Gardiner High School; Y. W. C. A., Social Service Committee, 3, Treasurer, 4; Entre Nous; Enkuklios; Seniority, 4; Macfarlane, 4; Ramsdell Scientific, 3, 4; Phil-Hellenic, 3, 4; Glee Club, 3, 4; Choir, 2, 3, 4; Orchestra, 4; Hockey, 3, 4; Volley Ball, 3, 4; Numerals; Assistantships in Latin and Geology; Double Honor Student; Phi Beta Kappa.

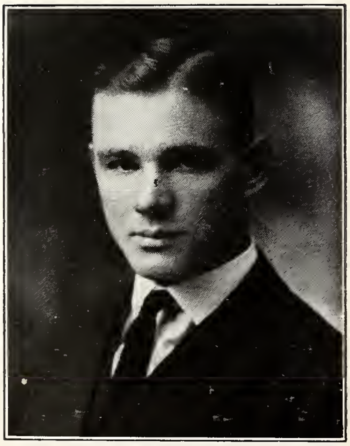
From the sloping eaves and dark seclusion of Whittier's "Peanut Alley" to the lofty expansive roominess of Rand Hall, "Al" has travelled along in ever increasing popularity. Not only has she developed the gift of the Music Goddess but she has shown some skill in the Palmer method. Alice's real powers lie in being a mathematical shark and we are sure of her fast progress upward on the scale of teaching.

Grace Catherine Daley, A. B.

Really! Honestly! How perfectly grand!
Is Grace's one reply.
Honestly! Girls! What do you think?
I really thought I'd die!

Born, September 17, 1901, Kingston, N. H.; Sanborn Seminary; Y. W. C. A.; Freshman Prize Speaking; Sophomore Prize Speaking; Entre Nous; Hiking, 4; Outing Club, 2, 3, 4; New Hampshire Club, 1, 2, 3, 4, Vice President, 3.

How we have all enjoyed Grace's happy-go-lucky ways! Studies never bothered her much and what is the use of puzzling one's head about old lessons anyway? But when it comes to prize speaking, parades, and the light fantastic toe she is right there. What is to be her profession? Some of us have been a bit suspicious of her ability in correspondence courses, but here's hoping for happiness and lots of money in whatever walk of life she chooses.



John Davis, B. S.

"Dave"

"'They are fools who kiss and tell,'
Wisely has the poet sung.
Man may hold all sorts of posts
If he'll only hold his tongue."

Born, December 28, 1897, Berwick, Maine; Kennebunk High School; Varsity Football, 1, 2, 3, 4; Varsity Basketball, 2, 3, Captain, 3; Class Hockey, 4; Class Track, 1, 2; Student Council, 3, 4; Varsity Club, 1, 2, 3, 4.

Here we have the gentleman who went through the entire Bowdoin team like a ton of bricks and scored the touchdown that spelled victory for Bates. John has piled up some record during his altogether-too-short four years at Bates. His ability to pull down forwards, punt, plow through the line, or pull down an opponent about to go across for a score will never be forgotten.

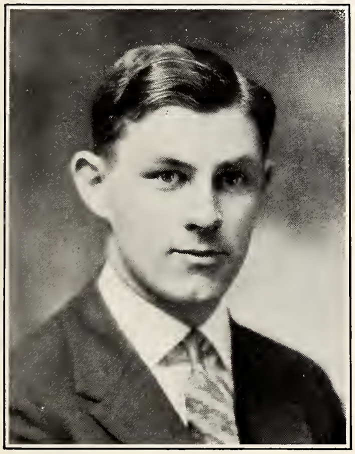
Always a gentleman, not only in sports but in everyday life, John has made many friends and admirers all over the state.

ARTHUR CHARLES DESCOTEAU, B.S.

"None but himself can be his parallel."

Born October 9, 1899, Norway, Maine; Norway High School; Y. M. C. A., 4; Military Science Club, 4; Jordan Scientific Club, 4; Outing Club, 1, 2, 3, Director, 4; Varsity Club, 4; Football: Varsity, 4, Class, 1, 2; Track, Class, 1, 2, 3, 4; Hockey, Class, 3, 4; Baseball, Class, 1, 2; Band Leader, 3; Assistant Physical Instructor, 4.

Desco explains his coming to Bates by saying that the Lewiston train left Norway before the Montreal train pulled in and since he wasn't quite decided whether to adopt Bates or McGill as his Alma Mater, he came to Lewiston. That is characteristic of Desco. He takes what comes and makes the most of it. We are all glad that he came to Bates. Whatever he has been called on to do he has done with a will, the true Bates spirit, whether it was pleading for Bates in China or clog dancing at a Chase Hall entertainment.



LESTER MARVIN DIEHL, A.B.

"I do not understand this.
No; but half
The interest of life is in its puzzles."

Born November 8, 1897, Meriden, Conn.; Englewood H. S., Englewood N. J.; Outing Club; Orchestra; McFarlane Club.

Here is a puzzle to be sure. The puzzling thing is how he does it. How does he move around so without even letting us know where he is or where he is bound? How does he arrange it to be up with the birds every morning and how has he escaped punishment due him for those weird noises drawn from his 'cello at such an early hour? Well, as we said before, it is a puzzle.

ALBERT ATKINSON DUNLAP, B. S.

"Birdie"

"We have two ears and one mouth
So that we may hear more than we say."

Born October 31, 1902, Bowdoinham, Maine; Bowdoinham High School; Y. M. C. A., 1, 2, 3, 4; Chairman Lost and Found Bureau, 3; Jordan Scientific, 4; Manager of Track, 4.

"Birdie" is the class baby, and to prove that he's still a youth, he wears short pants. "Birdie" is one of those quiet chaps, who seldom become aroused. He's not in the habit of talking, as he's out of practice after rooming with "Abie" and "Sammie" for 2 years. However, here's a living example of good things coming in small packages. He has efficiently managed the track team during the past season and has managed to do other things, but we won't tell, "Birdie." Keep up the good work after you leave us, and we have no doubt as to your success.

Ruth Emily Dunlap, A.B.

"The sweetest garland to the sweetest maid."

Born April 10, 1901, Franklin, N. H.; Laconia High School; Y. W. C. A., 1, 2, 3, 4; Entre Nous, 1; Deutsche Verein, 3, 4; New Hampshire Club, 1, 2, 3, 4, President, 4.

One of Ruth's greatest charms is her ability to make the best of things — even if it's quarantine, matters might be worse. We all admire your cheerful, untiring efficiency, Ruth, on the Y. W. Bazaar committee this year. German Club and lots of other activities will miss you, too. Besides, Ruth always knows just what to wear and just how to wear it.

Marion Arlene Earle, A.B.

"Sometimes from her eyes
I did receive fair speechless messages."

Born February 2, 1902, Litchfield, Maine; Litchfield Academy; Class Vice-President, 4; Y. W. C. A.; Entre Nous; Phil-Hellenic, 2, 3, 4, Vice-President, 3; Hiking, 4; Soccer, 1, 2.

Isn't she dear? Yes, we all think that Marion is all right. Friendliness toward all just oozes from her jovial disposition and if you ever feel blue, you have a chat with Marion and before you realize it the blues have melted into her merry laugh. There is not a girl in the class who will more quickly or willingly do something for you. We know that she will make homes happy wherever she goes.

Dorothy Elms, A. B.

"Besides, 'tis known she could speak Greek
As naturally as pigs do squeak."

Born, January 22, 1900, Auburn, Maine; Edward Little High School; Y. W. C. A.; Outing Club; Entre Nous; Basketball, second team, 2; Hiking, 3, 4.

Fair has two meanings; Dot is both. First, she is undoubtedly easy to look at; second, she has never been heard to say an unjust or mean thing about anybody. Many of Dot's experiences have been staged off campus; nevertheless, she has made herself known thru her exquisite dancing, thru her sunny temper, thru that rippling gurgle of a laugh that nearly drowned out the Doxology in Chapel the other day, and thru the fact of her getting along in every lesson with apparently no worry and certainly no low marks.

Dot was, is, and always will be in our hearts and, we hope, in our company as a live '23-er.

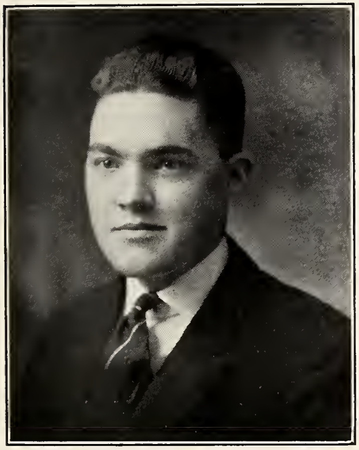
Elizabeth Hanson Files, A. B.

"Libbie"

"While Libbie stands defender of the Orange and the Black."

Born, April 8, 1901, East Bridgewater, Mass.; East Orange High School, New Jersey; Y. W. C. A., 1, 2, 3, 4; Entre Nous, 1; Enkuklios, Sophomore member, 2; Alethea, 2, 3; Seniority, 4; Mandolin Club, 1; Hockey, 3, 4; Volley Ball, 3, Second Team, 4; Soccer, 3; Numerals, 4; Bazaar Chairman, 4.

"Has anybody got the mail?" and we know it must be Libbie. Those fat letters from Princeton come at least twice a day with specials on Sunday. "How can he write so much?" we uninitiated ones ask, but she just smiles and looks at us pityingly. Tho Princeton may be her Major course, she still has time for lots of other things. If we want something done well we ask Lib. to do it, whether it's a poster or a bazaar. She can cook, too. We congratulate you, Bob.



John Garner Fogg, B. S.

"When I had at my pleasure taunted her and she in mild terms begged my patience." — Shakespeare.

Born May 5, 1900, Lewiston Maine; Deering High School; Class Treasurer, 4; Y. M. C. A., 1, 2, 3, 4; Military Science, 2, 3, 4, Secretary and Treasurer, 4; Jordan Scientific, 4; Macfarlane Club, 3, 4; Outing Club, 1, 2, 3, 4; Musical Clubs, 1, 2, 3, 4, Leader, 4; Mirror Board.

"Johnny" is the gay Lothario of them all. It is said that there is a co-ed whom John was never out with, but to this date it has never been verified. But no wonder, with his broad grin and curly hair, one can't just blame the girls. Even when things arn't going so good, John never worries, he just gets out his banjo and strums a lively tune, then bursts forth into "melody."

Rodolphe Alfred Gagnon, B.S.

"A spirit conscious of a higher mission
Is usually on the wing."

Born November 10, 1901, Lewiston, Maine; Lewiston High School; Y. M. C. A., 1, 2; Cercle Français, 1; Deutsche Verein, 3, 4; Outing Club, 2, 3, 4; Tennis Manager, 3; Band, 1; Glee Club, 2; Orchestra, 2; Assistantship in Chemistry, 3, 4; Varsity Club, 4.

Here he comes, there he goes! That is Rody. Always full of business and trying his hardest to fulfill his mission in time to catch the 6.55 p. m. Auburn Heights car from the head of the street. Let us say in credit to him that he seldom fails. Rody is a man of science and in this field we hope and prophesy great success for him. Rody is also a man of ambition. Here's hoping you make that Ph.D.

Warner Tilton Gifford, A. B.

"Warner"

"That is to say, in a casual way,
I slipped my arm around her."

Born, August 26, 1900, Sidney, Maine. Brewer High School; Y. M. C. A., 1, 2, 3, 4; Phil-Hellenic, 2, 3, 4; Outing Club, 2, 3, 4.

There was a time in the course of Warner's career in college with us when we felt inclined to shake our heads of an evening and sigh, "Alas, Warner has gone to the—(a breathless pause) nurses." Hence his ability to speak authoritatively on matters pertaining to the C. M. G. But all that is over with now, he assures us. Warner is a young man with a serious turn to his mind. He has a purpose in life and even now in preparation for his work makes weekly missionary journeys to the far off fields of East Wilton. By the way, Warner, what town is it that manufactures more toothpicks than any other town in the world?

William Edward Guiney, B. S.

"Bill"

"This partial view of human-kind
Is surely not the last!"

Born, December 19, 1898, Biddeford, Maine; Biddeford High School; Varsity Football, 1, 2, 3, 4, Captain, 4; Class Hockey, 1, 2, 3, 4; Class Basketball, 1, 2, 3, 4; Military Science Club; Outing Club; Press Club.

Hats off to Bill, the greatest of all football captains that ever led a garnet team on the gridiron. It was a simple task for Bill to send Bowdoin back to Brunswick with sad memories of that 7 to 3 defeat. Playing every minute of every college game for four successive years is some stunt for an ordinary man, but Bill pulled off this feat as easy as he would pack away a good-sized feed at a De Witt banquet — and that's some easy.

We hate to see such a wonderful athlete as Bill leave Bates, but we cannot help wishing him good luck in whatever he attempts. He is sure to be a success anywhere. If you want to keep a line on him, just watch the newspapers.

James Betts Hamlin, B. S.

"Jimmie"

"By the old Moulmein Pagoda, looking eastward to the sea
There's a Burma girl asettin' and I know she thinks of me."

Born September 18, 1897, Thacker, West Virginia; Bridgeton Academy; Y. M. C. A., 1, 2, 3, 4; Military Science, 2, 3, 4; Student Council, 1, 2, 3, 4; Vice President, 4; Outing Club, 1, 2, 3, 4; Commons Committee, 1, 2, 3, 4 Chairman, 4; Secretary, A. A., 2; President, 4; Ivy Day Speaker; Headwaiter, 3, 4.

Here he is —— Our best. When in need of friendly advice or an extended vocabulary, Jim, with his epicurean philosophy, will remedy all evils. Ever handy with iodine or scalpel, he is the "first aid" artist of Parker Hall. For two stormy years he has piloted "The Commons" bean joint, and we have admired the polished way in which he makes announcements. So we hesitate to believe it can possibly exist without him. We are really thankful to Jim for putting so many laborious hours in the preparation of those Chase Hall dances, and our wish for him is: may he be as successful in life.

FLORENCE ALTA HARRIS, A.B.

"So much one girl can do
That doth both act and know."

Born July 28, 1902, Lewiston, Maine; E. L. H. S.; Y. W. C. A.; Sophomore Prize Speaking; Junior Exhibition, Prize Winner; Entre Nous; Seniority; Deutsche Verein, Vice-President, 4; Hockey, 4; Hiking, 3; Volley Ball, 2, 4.

Alta of the eyelashes! As we write this we can hear Alta turning off the compliment with, "Say, aren't you nice! Sayer-won't you come down to the Qual?" Alta can never believe that the nice things we say about her are true. She knows a lot of interesting things about people and if you're good she will tell you. But for a' that, we've never learned the origin of her Dartmouth seal pin. Her favorite words are "gee" and "swell," but they color her speech so intriguingly that we'd miss them if she left them out. Alta gets high rank without any ostentation and she deserves it.

LLOYD ARNOLD HATHAWAY, A. B.

"Hath"

"Though some may yearn for titles great, and seek the frills of fame,
I do not care to have an extra handle to my name."

Born, Dec. 19, 1901, Bryant Pond, Maine; Woodstock High School; Y. M. C. A., Chairman, 4; Politics Club, 4; Jordan Scientific Society, 3, 4, Ex. Com., 4; Deutsche Verein, 3, 4; Spofford Club, 3, 4; Outing Club, 2, 3, 4; Press Club, 3; Class Track, 1; Class Basketball, 1, 2, 3; Baseball, 1, 2; Sophomore Prize Debate, alternate; Assistant Physics Dept.; Honor Student; Phi Beta Kappa.

It is said that college is a place in which we find ourselves. Here is a man who has made use of college—who has grown. Lloyd has earned his own way, but he has found time for study, and is always right up there with the leaders. "A's" are as common to him as bees are to a bee-hive. If perseverance and conscientious effort ever get a man anywhere, then this classmate of ours will arrive — even if he does bluster a bit, and attempt to sing now and then.

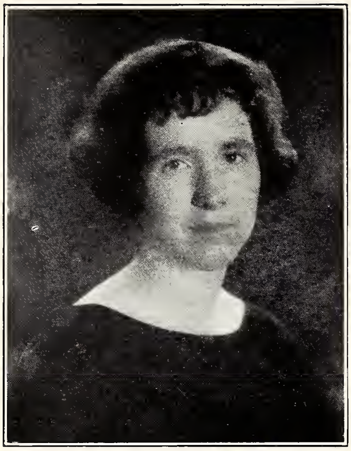
EDWARD WESLEY HILBOURNE, B. S.

"Wes"

"She cast her eyes upon him, and he looked so good and true,
That she thought, 'I could be happy with a gentleman like
you.' "

Born July 23, 1898, Raymond, N. H.; Saugus Mass. High School; Class President, 2; Military Science, 2, 3; Deutsche Verein, 3, 4; Mirror Board; Assistant in Chemistry, 3, 4; Class Day Speaker; Honor Student.

"Wes" believed that the noise of Parker House was hardly conducive to studying, so he decided to have a house of his own. Its a common occurance now to see "Wes" tearing from the chemical laboratory across the campus, home to get the dinner. However, he says there's nothing like it and we don't know as we blame him. "Wes" had a lot of handicaps to overcome, for instance, coming from a suburb of Saugus, but he managed to live them down and has become one of our prominent classmates.



Helen Hildred Hoyt, A.B.

"Zip"

"You never can tell how far a toad will go until he begins to hop."

Born June 25, 1901, Presque Isle, Maine; Presque Isle High School; Conventions Committee, 3; Student Government Board, 4; Entre Nous, 1; Alethea, 3; Seniority, 4; Ramsdell Scientific, 3, 4; Mandolin Club, 1; Hockey, 1, 2, 3, 4; Captain, 1, 2, 3, 4; Hiking, 4; Volley Ball, 1, 2, 3, 4; Basketball, 1, 2, 3; Soccer, 1, 2, 3; Tennis, 3; Numerals; "B"; Assistant in Biology, 4; Athletic Board, 2, 3, 4, President, 4; Class Day Speaker.

Zip is one of the bright spots in our class — a spot of varied colours. We can find her anywhere — dribbling the ball down the hockey field, the most popular girl at a dance, cutting up cats at Bi. Lab., or presiding at Athletic Board. Her experiences in co-education have been varied, too. We are all glad that this bit of sunshine has been with us these four years.

Fred Allston Huntress, B. S.

"Hunty"

"Alas! how can we always resist?" — Voltaire.

Born January 31, 1903, Groveland, Mass; Groveland High School; Y. M. C. A., 1, 2; Military Science, 3, 4; Jordan Scientific, 3, 4; Outing Club, 1, 2, 3, 4; Manager Basketball, 4; Assistant in Chemistry, 3.

Hunty has been with us during our four tempestuous years, during which time he has devoted himself academically along with a comprehensive course in Co-education. We expect great things from Hunty. As a chemist we will find no equal. We feel assured that all the reactions in which he is involved during life will be quickly dissolved, due to his dynamic force and straight thinking. A cheerful nature, a care-free manner, and a smiling disposition — we have enjoyed all these in our all too short companionship.

Alice Mary Jesseman, A. B.

"Al"

"She's pretty to walk with,
And witty to talk with,
And pleasant, too, to think on."

Born, August 5, 1901, Lisbon, N. H.; Lisbon High School; Vice President Class, 3; Chairman, Y. W. C. A., Social Committee, 4; Ivy Day Speaker; Editor Garnet, 3; Mirror Board; Vice President, Enkuklios, 3; Alethea, 2, 3; Seniority, 3, 4; Vice President, 4; Spofford, 3, 4; Vice President, 4; Hockey, 2, 3; Volley Ball, 1, 2, 3, 4; Basketball, second team, 2; Soccer, 2, 3; Numerals, 3; Assistant in Biblical Literature, 4; Bazaar Chairman, 3; Million Dollar Drive Committee, 3, 4, Secretary, 3.

Bates wanted to raise a million—so of course '23 elected Al to see that we did our part. Y. W. C. A. needed a social chairman, and who but Al could fill that place? Somebody wants a poster made, or her hair curled—and Al does it. And she still finds time for co-education and lots of other things. However, we fear that her heart is no longer at Bates. The sunny south seems likely to claim Al before long. Here's the best of good wishes for her.

Ernest Benjamin Johnson, B.S.

"Youth on the prow, and Pleasure at the helm."

Born July 10, 1898, Portland, Maine; Portland High School; North Yarmouth Academy, 1917; Y. M. C. A., 1, 2, 3, 4; Military Science Club, 3, 4; Outing Club 1, 2, 3, 4; Football (squad), 4; Basketball (class), 1, 3; Baseball (squad), 1, 2; Mirror Board.

Ollie is different from the rest of us. He sleeps days and moves around at night. No, I won't say he is different, because we have all done that more or less, but Ollie has done it just more. He is a champion in his line. Such men as Edison and Ollie are apt to be eccentric. Edison goes without sleep. Ollie gets his in the day time. Ollie resembles Edison more, however, because of his mechanical ability. An old alarm clock or a wind-broken flivver and Ollie is happy.

James William Kennelly, B.S.

"Places of trust are only for the trusted;
And high commissions but for men with missions."

Born November 5, 1896, North Bellingham, Mass.; Horace Mann High School, Franklin, Mass.; Class President, 4; Military Science Club, 3, 4; Student Council, 4; Outing Club, 3, 4; Varsity Club, 1, 2, 3, 4; Baseball, 1, 2, 3, 4, Captain, 4; Mandolin Club, 2, 3, 4; Ivy Day Class Marshal, Toastmaster; Assistant in Public Speaking, 3, 4; Parker Hall Association, President, 4; Mirror Board.

Prexy came to us in our second year and believe us when we say we needed him. We needed just such a man as Bill. He has more than entered into the spirit of the class, he has been a creator of class spirit. Bill is ready to lend a hand to aid any worthy Bates enterprise and his aid works wonders. He exerts an influence and is popular to the limit. Our best wishes, Bill, for the success due you.

Allison MacDonald Paterson Laing, A. B.

"Al"

"Sugar and spice and all things nice, that's what little girls are made of."

Born August 17, 1901, East Lake George, N. Y.; Schenectady High School; World Fellowship Committee, 3; Convention Committee, 4; Outing Club Director, 4; Junior Exhibition; Mirror Board; Entre Nous, 1; Seniority, 4; Deutsche Verein, 3, 4; Glee Club, 4; Hockey, 1, 2, 3, 4; Hiking, 4; Volley Ball, 1, 2, 3, 4; Captain, 1; Soccer, 2, 3; Captain, 3; Numerals; "B"; Track, 3; Athletic Board, 3.

Remember the dainty Dutch dancer or the graceful Pierrot who has charmed us by her art so many times? That's Al. Or see the little girl bringing the hockey ball down the field for a sure goal? That's Al, too. Al admits that she has a quick temper, but we know that the storm is over as suddenly as it comes, and we love her just the same.

RUTH BERNICE LEADER, A.B.

"Dressed so sweet, and just in style."

Born January 25, 1902, Lewiston, Maine; Jordan High School; Y. W. C. A., 1, 2, 3, 4; Finance Committee, 3; Publicity, 4; Entre Nous, 1; Enkuklios, 1, 2, 3; Seniority, 4; MacFarlane, 1, 2, 3, 4, Secretary-Treasurer, 4; Cercle Français, 1, 2, 3, 4; Deutsche Verein, 3, 4; Glee Club, 1, 2, 3, 4; Mandolin Club, 3; Choir, 1, 2, 3, 4; Orchestra, 1, 2, 3, Leader, 4, Hiking, 3, 4; Soccer, 3, 4; Numerals; Ivy Hop Committee; Student Government Board, 4.

This "promising young musician" of Portland has done a lot to make our college course pleasant. Her music is one of the memories we will always keep. Ruth can play volley ball, too. Just ask anyone. In fact there isn't much of anything Ruth can't do, and she's always helping other people to do things. We are sure of a quick response when we ask her for assistance.

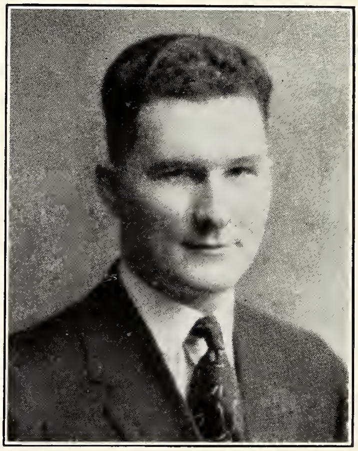
KENNETH ELWOOD LEATHERS, A. B.

"Ken"

"For he's bonnie and braw, weel-favor'd witha',
An' his hair has a natural buckle an' a'."

Born, May 26, 1898, Hampden Hills, Maine; Wiscasset Academy, Kents Hill; Y. M. C. A.; Military Science; Outing Club; Press Club; Ivy Day Speaker; Assistant Public Speaking; Property man, Million Dollar Play; Class Day Speaker.

Ken has become a familiar figure on campus, swinging along toward the class-room, bag in hand. This boy joined us in our junior year and has made a place for himself by his kindly smile and pleasant greeting. Although Ken has lived off campus he has engaged in many campus activities. He rendered valuable assistance as property man for the Million Dollar play last year. With his assistance, the Freshmen have learned how to "orate" in public. Ken has won his way by his willingness to lend a helping hand wherever it is needed.



FRANK HARRIS LEAVITT, A. B.

"Harris"

"So I would live and laugh and love until my sun descends."

Born, Dec. 21, 1901, Eliot, Maine; Eliot High School; Eastern Nazarene College, Wollaston, Mass.; Y. M. C. A., 3, 4; Outing Club, 3, 4; Journal Club, 3, 4; Debating Council, 4.

Does anyone remember the frightened expression on Harris' face the first day he appeared on campus at the beginning of the Junior year? No? Well,—it is a thing of the past. During the two years that he has been with us, Harris has won many friends. The interest he has shown in campus activities makes us wonder what he would have accomplished if he had been with us all four years. He believes in studying, too, although he has been known to remark, "One shouldn't sacrifice pool for such a trivial thing as studying." Harris says he is going to be a missionary, and judging from his interest he now shows we are sure he will reach his goal. Good luck to you, Harris.

Abraham Bernard Levine, B.S.

"The worth of man is measured like a gem's,
Not by its bulk but by its brilliancy."

Born June 1, 1900, Bialastock, Poland; Wakefield High School, Mass.; Varsity Club, 1, 2, 3, 4; Track, 1; Glee Club, 1; Choir, 1, 2, 3, 4; Sophomore Prize Division.

If Abie's worth was measured by his bulk, he would be worth very little but it isn't measured that way. Abie is a big man except for bulk. He came to America in 1911 and went to grammar school until 1913. Then he worked until 1916, when he returned to high school, being graduated in 1919. Now he is a Bates man and there has never been a more enthusiastic one. We will not have to say any more about Abie. He speaks for himself.

Gertrude Louise Lombard, A.B.

"Bunny"

"A merry heart goes all the way."

Born July 26, 1901, Camden, Maine; Abbott Academy, Andover, Mass.; Vice-President, Class, 1; Y. W. C. A., 1, 2, 3, 4; Cabinet, 2; President, 4; Junior Exhibition; Entre Nous, 1; Enkuklios, 1, 2, 3; Alethea, 2, 3; Seniority, 4; Cercle Français, 1; Phil-Hellenic, 2, 3, 4; Glee Club, 1, 2; Hockey, 1, 2, 3, 4; Volley Ball, 2, 3, 4; Captain, 3, 4; Second Team, Basketball, 2, 3; Soccer, 1, 2, 3; Numerals; "B"; Assistant in Public Speaking, 4; Class Day Speaking; Honor Student.

This smiling young lady is Bunny. Would you ever guess that she is loaded down with a whole lot of responsibility? Allow us to introduce her as a most successful and efficient Y. W. C. A. president. And that isn't all. We hear that she is passing with honors one of the most strenuous courses in co-education ever offered at this college. But best of all, she is never too busy to look out for other people, and cheer up someone who isn't as happy as she is. Good luck, Bunny. You deserve the best.

Valerie Flora McAlister, A.B.

Born 1899, South Paris, Maine; East Maine Conference Seminary, 1916; Cercle Francais, 3, Secretary-Treasurer, 4; Seniority, 4; Volley Ball, 3; Hiking, 3.

Ve is a bona fide member of '23 although she did not join us till Junior year. From her quiet unassuming manner in class one would never suspect what a wealth of fun she possesses. Whether it is climbing Mt. Apatite after geological specimens or skiing down Pole Hill, Ve is right there. The quiet kind is the one which brings surprises, so here's to you, Ve.

Bertha Alma Mayberry, A.B.

"A quiet conscience makes one so serene."

Born April 7, 1899, Otisfield, Maine; E. L. H. S.; Y. W. C. A.; Freshman Prize Speaking; Entre Nous; Seniority; MacFarlane, 3, 4; Deutsche Verein, 4; Hiking, 3; Mirror Board; Honor Student.

Bertha ought to have a studio with a big piano, dusky hangings, an open fire, red silk cushions, and rows and rows of bookcases, to go with all her accomplishments. Remember her hair before she had it bobbed? It hung way down to her knees, bronze-copper and thick. Yet she has been perfectly happy with a frivolous Dutch cut. She could have gone thru college with A in everything; she could have flunked every subject if she had wanted to; but she turned her energies toward getting the most out of college and life in general. Altogether, if you haven't known Bertha, you've missed something.

Nelly Knowlton Milliken, A.B.

"Her voice was ever low and sweet, an excellent thing in woman."

Born June 19, 1902, Island Falls, Maine; Cony High School, Augusta; Class Vice-President, 2; Y. W. C. A., Vice-President, 3; Student Government, 2, 3, President, 4; Sophomore Prize Debate; Student Board, 3; Mirror Board, 4; Press Club, 3; Entre Nous; Alethea, 2, 3; Seniority, 4; Phil-Hellenic, 2, 3, 4; Hockey, 1, 3, 4; Volley Ball, 1, 2, 3; Basketball, 1, 2, 3; Soccer, 2; Tennis, 1, 2, 3; Numerals; "B"; Assistantship in Argumentation, 3 and History, 4; Scholarship Prize, 3; Athletic Board; Tennis Manager, 3; Double Honor Student; Phi Beta Kappa.

It is really surprising to find out how much some people can do. Besides carrying anywhere from twenty-one to thirty recitation hours a week, Nelly is a most popular Student Government President, Tennis Champion, and Star in Pa Gould's History. Altho being assistant in Argumentation she is remarkable in her excellent command over the silences of the English language. She can play every kind of a game well, but her favorite sport is swimming, altho lately she has a special fondness just to "wade." Nelly is a girl of great possibilities and the class looks for great things from her.

Hazel Margaret Monteith, A.B.

"Jumbo"

"He profits most who serves best."

Born September 10, 1901, Lewiston, Maine; Stephens High School, Rumford; Y. W. C. A., Social Committee, 3, 4; Outing Club Director, 3, 4; Student Board, 3, 4; Mirror Board, Women's Athletics, 4; Press Club, 3, 4; Entre Nous; Seniority, 4; MacFarlane, 4; Glee Club, 2, 3; Manager, 4; Orchestra, Accompanist, 3, 4; Hockey, 3, 4; Volley Ball, 1, 4; Basketball, 2, 3; Soccer, 1, 2, 3; Numerals; "B"; Proctor at Rand, 4; Cheer Leader, 4.

The one word above all others which characterizes Hazel is "Life." "Wake up," "Do it now," "Make it peppy," "Show some class spirit," are a few of the mottoes which she recommends. "Hazie" is a girl who can do almost everything and is sort of a "Jack of all trades," but she is a skillful Jack whether making a speech, accompanying the Glee Club, shooting baskets or embroidering on that bureau scarf. She is a hustler, to say the least, and will surely be able to fill the responsibilities she will assume when receiving the famous pedigree of an Earle.

Philip Stephen Nason, A. B.

"Phil"

"What is the matter,
Young Fellow My Lad,
No letter again today?"

Born, October 4, 1899, Kingston, N. H.; Sanborn Seminary; Y. M. C. A., 1, 2, 3, 4, President, 4; Jordan Scientific Society, 4; Phil-Hellenic, 2, 3, 4; President Student Volunteer Group; Outing Club, 1, 2, 3, 4; Press Club, 2; Class Football, 2; Sophomore Prize Speaking; Ivy Day Speaker; Junior Exhibition; Assistant Geology; Honor Student; Phi Beta Kappa.

4.30 a. m. What is that terrific racket? Don't be disturbed. It is only Big Ben striving to arouse Phil. Yes, he actually takes delight in rising at that early hour to, — ye gods—study Greek and Hebrew. This lad is a hard worker, for, in addition to maintaining high rank in his studies, he is president of the Y. M. C. A., leader of the Student Volunteers, and yet finds time for weekly preaching trips. Phil has met with success in the class-room and out of it through hard, conscientious work. Wherever he goes and whatever he does in life he will give his best. May our good wishes attend you through life, Phil.

Frederick Charles Noyes, B. S.

"Grimes"

See me, how calm I am.

Born March 31, 1901, Vinalhaven, Maine; Vinalhaven High School; Y. M. C. A., 1, 2, 3, 4; Military Science, 3, 4; Jordan Scientific, 3, 4, Secretary, 4; Outing Club, 1, 2, 3, 4; Manager Hockey, 4; Mandolin Club, 4; Circulation Manager Bates Student, 4; Mirror Board.

We all admire anybody who has an even temperament and who never allows any circumstance to ruffle the durability of his disposition. But really, girls, he has a charming way about him that can only be appreciated when one knows him intimately. His favorite pastime is in giving advice to his lovesick roommates, Fogg and Huntress. We look for big things to happen after Grimes receives his sheep skin. We will always remember him as a good friend and a ready sport.

Harris Cary Palmer, B. S.

"What was I about to say? By the mass, I was about to say something: where did I leave?"

Born, November 7, 1900, East Sumner, Maine; Buckfield High School; Jordan Scientific, 4; Press Club, 3, 4, President, 4; Y. M. C. A., Committee Chairman, 3; Assistant in Physics, 4.

That ready smile of Palmer's always makes one feel better. We used to think it meant he had a girl back home, but he solemnly informs us it is not so. Delving into the mysteries of Ohms, Volts, Variometers, Resistances, etc., etc., we suppose his mathematical mind finds such enjoyment that he has grown the "smile that won't come off." We challenge you, though, Palmer—to raise a mustache. It can't be did! As he is that kind of a chap that will try anything once, we expect him to stumble into something worth while in life and make a go of it. Good luck to you, Palmer.

Clarence Capen Peaslee, Jr., B.S.

"O, what may man within him hide,
Though angel on the outward side!"

Born November 5, 1900, Auburn, Maine; Edward Little High School; Y. M. C. A., 1, 2, 3, 4; Outing Club, 2, 3, 4; Glee Club, Manager, 4; Mandolin Club, 1, 2, 3, Manager, 4.

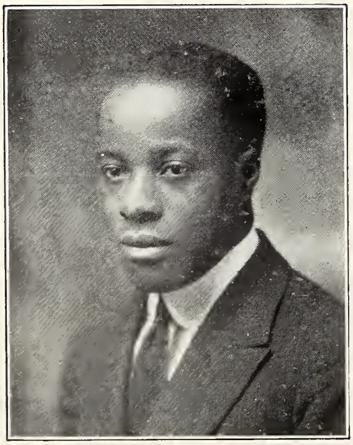
Capen, as he prefers to be called, is a manager of all kinds of business enterprises. He and Bradford are a pair that are hard to beat. Capen does the managing and Brad the work. So far they have managed very well and we expect that they will always manage to make a living. Capen has managed to escape the clutches of the fairer sex. He has a different one for each occasion and believe me, that takes some high class managing.

Ella Marjorie Pillsbury, A.B.

"Would that this too, too solid flesh would melt."

Born June 21, 1901, Limington, Maine; Limington Academy; Class Secretary, 2; Y. W. C. A. Bible Study Committee, 2, 3, Religious Meetings Committee, 4; Sophomore Prize Debate; Mirror Board; Entre Nous, President, 1; Alethea, 2; Seniority; MacFarlane, 3, Vice-President, 4; Cercle Francais; Ramsdell Scientific; Glee Club, 1, 2, Leader, 4; Mandolin Club, 1, 2; Choir, 1, 2, 3, Vice-President, 4; Volley Ball, 1; Soccer, 1; Class Day Speaker.

If Marge didn't make such a successful girl we are very sure she would have made a perfectly grand man! Do you remember those plays and masquerades? What a witty, deep voiced gallant she was! However, we are glad she is as she is, for in her we find such a jolly girl friend. How many talents is one person allowed to have, do you think? Seems like this leader in college activities has more than her share.



Theodore Roosevelt Pinckney, B. S.

"Teddy"

"Whose words all ears took captive."

Born, September 10, 1901, Albany, N. Y.; Dunbar High School, Washington, D. C.; Y. M. C. A., 1, 2, 3, 4; Deputation group, 3, 4; Politics Club, 3, 4; Debating Council, 3, 4; Outing Club, 2, 3, 4; Press Club, 3, 4, Editorial Board, 4; Student Board, 4; Sophomore Debate, winning team; Junior Exhibition, prize winner; Varsity Debater.

A natural born orator, a man whose silvery tongue has held many an audience spell-bound. When Teddy is not adding to his laurels as a speaker or preparing for a debate he may be found in the Bi. Lab. studying, industriously, the mechanism of the cat. Teddy is liked and respected by all who know him for his quiet, unassuming manner. We are confident that we shall hear great things of him in the years to come.

MABEL HORR PLUMMER, A. B.

"I'm a shy maid, demure maid,
I always keep my eyes upon the ground."

Born, June 20, 1902, Auburn, Maine; Edward Little High School; Cercle Francais, 1, 4; Deutsche Verein, 3, 4; Hockey, 2, 3; Soccer, 2, 3; Numerals; Track, 1, 3, Captain, 3.

It takes four years to get to know her and even then there are little corners and crannies about her personality that hold the most delightful secrets anyone ever found. Mabel always showed a fondness for the "Small" things in life and "Wes" showed sense in picking her way back in 1919. She can cook, keep house, hike, row, swim, shingle piazza roofs, and incidentally, break track records for Bates in standing and running high jumps. Mabel might be in India now, but, fortunately for '23, she chose an A.B. instead.

HAZEL EDITH PRESCOTT, A. B.

"Her reputation is complete,
And fair without a flaw."

Born, February 1, 1900, Worcester, Mass.; Classical High School; Student Government House Committee for Rand, 4; Entre Nous, President, 1; Alethea, 2; Seniority, 3, 4, Secretary and Treasurer, 4; Ramsdell Scientific, 4.

Babe is a living disproof of the old proverb, "Procrastination is the thief of time." She can put off things, go to the movies, indulge in the various forms of modern literature, and yet get her studying all done in time to be ready for any spree. We would suggest that an electric attachment be placed on her couch, connecting it with the rising bell so that with this added stimulus she may be able to regain a state of consciousness long enough before to occasionally get to breakfast. We have our doubts as to anything being beyond her reach and when it comes to putting things through, Babe, you're there.

CARL EVERETT PURINTON, A. B.

"Carl"

"Strive and Thrive."

Born, April 4, 1900, Lewiston, Maine; Jordan High School; Y. M. C. A,. Cabinet, 2, 3, 4, Student Secretary, 2, Vice President, 3; Bates Student, 2, 3, Editor-in-chief, 3; Editor-in-chief, Mirror; Phil-Hellenic, 2, 3, 4; Spofford Club, 2, 3, 4, President, 4; Outing Club, Director, 2, 3, 4, Secretary, 4; Tennis, 1, 2, 3, 4; Freshman Prize Scholarship; Sophomore Prize Essay; Sophomore Prize Speaking Division; Junior Exhibition; Junior Prize Scholarship; Assistant, Bib. Lit. Dept.; Class Day Speaker; Phi Beta Kappa; Double Honor Student.

There's no doubt about it. Carl is a worker. And he works on a system, too. Greek: 2.30-2.59; Meeting of Outing Club Directors, 3.00-3.32; writing editorials for Bates Student, 3.36-4.07. So it goes. It is needless to say that this classmate of ours succeeds,—that he has proven himself to be one of the ablest members of 1923.

JOHN LESLIE READE, JR., A.B.

"How much is time here worth, if in it all
We live but slaves, and never know of good times?"

Born August 11, 1900, Lewiston, Maine; Lewiston High School; Y. M. C. A., 1, 2, 3, 4; Cercle Français, 1; Chemical Seminar Club, 3; Outing Club, 1, 2, 3, 4; Press Club, 2, 3, 4; Mandolin Club, 4; Ticket Manager, Million Dollar Play, 3.

Johnny doesn't believe in all work. He wants to mix in some play just to break the monotony. He does it too. Johnny can always be counted on to support campus social activities and also those not on the campus. He is a well known figure at New Odd Fellows Hall. Johnny fits in just as well where work is concerned, though. Don't make a mistake about that. We expect to see John as the successful head of some large bank.

EDWARD FREEMAN ROBERTS, A. B.

"Eddie"

"And what are pouting lips for if they can't be kissed."

Born, October 14, 1901, Presque Isle, Maine; Jordan High School; Politics Club, 4; Jordan Scientific Society, 3, 4, President, 4; Macfarlane Club, 1, 2; Outing Club, 2, 3, 4; Varsity Club, 1, 2, 3, 4; Hockey, 1, 2, 3, 4, Captain, 4; Tennis, 1, 2, 3, 4, Captain, 3, 4, Glee Club, 1, 2; Choir, 1, 2; Freshman Prize Speaking; Sophomore Prize Speaking; Junior Exhibition; Assistant in Biology, 3; Class Marshal, 1; Mirror Board; Class Day Speaker; Double Honor Student; Phi Beta Kappa.

Man, look at that record. Eddie has been an active member of '23 ever since he won the Freshman Tennis Cup way back in '19. It is a long, long time ago but Eddie has kept busy for his Alma Mater and the class of '23. The record above omits but one of his activities,—we hesitate to mention it. Co-education? You've guessed it.

ELSIE LOUISE ROBERTS, A.B.

"Bob"

"Is she not passing fair?"

Born November 20, 1901, Kennebunk, Maine; Kennebunk High School; Secretary of Class, 1; Y. W. C. A. Cabinet, 3, 4; Entre Nous, 1; Alethea, 2, 3; Seniority, 3, 4, President, 4; Deutsche Verein, 3, 4; Hockey, 1, 2, 3, 4; Volley Ball, 4; Basketball, 3; Soccer, 1, 2, 3; Numerals; "B".

Anyone as good looking as Bob doesn't need to be anything else, but Bob is lots of other things. Y. W. couldn't get along without her, and what would Seniority do without its President? Besides, Bob is the best sport in the world and a friend to everybody. We all love her, because,—well, she's just Bob. That's why.

Ernest Webster Robinson, A. B.

"Rob"

"I crossed the bridge at midnight,
As the clock was striking the hour."

Born, August 18, 1893, Concord, N. H.; Concord High School; Northeastern Preparatory, Boston, Mass.; Y. M. C. A., Cabinet, 3, 4, Advisory Board, 3, 4; Politics Club, 3, 4, Vice President, 4; Jordan Scientific, 4; Macfarlane, 2, 3; Phil-Hellenic, 3, 4, President, 4; Debating Council, 3, 4, Secretary, 3, President, 4; Outing Club, 2, 3, 4; Press Club, 2; Band, 2, 3, 4; Glee Club, 2; Choir, 2, 3, 4; Orchestra, 2, 3; Sophomore Prize Debate; President, Roger Williams Hall Association, 4; Journal Club, 2, 3, 4; Assistant, Geology Dept.; Honor Student; Phi Beta Kappa.

Rob has divided his time into three parts, week-ends at his church in North Anson; days on the campus; nights in Auburn; that is his schedule. Sleep? He doesn't need it, so he tells us. We wonder why. This classmate of ours during the three years he has been with us, has proven himself to be a very versatile and talented young man.

Paul Robinson, B. S.

"Pray you, tread softly, . . . we now are near his cell."

Born, April 21, 1900, Lewiston, Maine; Lewiston High School; Class Treasurer, 3; Jordan Scientific Club, 3, 4, Chairman Executive Committee, 4; Deutsche Verein, 4; Outing Club, 1, 2, 3, 4; Assistant in Chemistry, 4; Undergraduate Committee Million Dollar Fund, 3, 4, Chairman, 4.

Deep within the fastnesses of Hedge Laboratory, gazing into some foul and boiling mixture; surrounded by beakers, test-tubes, funnels, and evil smelling chemicals, stands Rob. Hour by hour he seeks the mysteries of the universe within the test tube. But, spite of these many hours spent so eagerly in the noxious Lab., he yet has found time for some of the social graces. It is rumored that girls have an inexplicable appeal to him like the forgotten formula of a wondrous chemical. With ardent zeal the charms of each he follows—an eager sacrifice upon love's altar. May success attend your efforts, Rob. We know you'll meet the girl complete—and support her in comfort on more than $C_{12}H_{22}O_{11}$.

Vivienne Iolia Rogers, A.B.

"There are hermit souls that live withdrawn
In the peace of their self-content."

Born June 12, 1901, Pittsfield, Maine; Maine Central Institute; Class Secretary, 3; Y. W. C. A.; Debating Council, 2, 3, 4; Sophomore Prize Debate, Winner; Junior Exhibition; Ivy Day Speaker; Student Board, Mirror Board; Entre Nous; Alethea, 2, 3; Seniority, 3, 4; Cercle Français, 1, 2, 3, 4; Deutsche Verein 3, 4; Glee Club, 1, 2, 3, 4; Choir, 2, 3, 4; Hiking, 1, 2, 3; Tennis, 1, 2, 3, 4; Assistantship in Public Speaking.

"Viv" holds the honorable distinction of being the best woman debater in the class. It's part of her creed to have an opinion of her own on most subjects and we admire her for not being afraid to express her opinion. "Viv" has been considered by her classmates as the "manhater" although she says she adores a real man like Prof. Gould. Nothing is quite as pleasing to "Viv" as History. Many a time have we heard of her plans to study abroad but since she is such a staunch believer in the G. O. P., we foresee a brilliant future for her in politics.

ARTHUR BURTON SCOTT, B. S.

"Scottie," "Red"

"He rested well content that all was well."

Born, February 26, 1900, South Boston, Mass.; Gardiner High School; Y. M. C. A., 1, 2, 3, 4; Military Science Club, 1, 2, 3, 4; Cercle Francais, 2; Outing Club, 1, 2, 3, 4; Varsity Club, 1, 2, 3, 4; Football, 1, 2, 3, 4, Captain, 4; Hockey, 3, 4.

Arthur "Red" Scott, another living example that proves the old adage, "Gardiner produces many good men." This tall, auburn-haired youth of stately carriage and refined manners has made many friends during his career at Bates. Scottie is very much at home on the gridiron, the hockey rink, or in any branch of social life. He has one big failing that we must not overlook — those frequent migrations to Gardiner and Augusta.

Arthur will be here next fall to lead the football team to a successful year. He's bound to be a success as captain of Coach Cutts' aggregation. We wish him luck, and are sure that he will far surpass all our expectations.

MABEL RUTH SIMMONS, A.B.

"Blushing has nothing to do with the heart."

Born June 24, 1900, Roslindale, Mass.; Stoughton High School, Mass.; Y. W. C. A.; Entre Nous; Seniority; Ramsdell Scientific, 3, Secretary, 4; Hiking, 4; Massachusetts Club, President, 4.

Mabel is noted for her remarkable presence of mind in emergencies. Once when a match caught fire in class she actually got it out doors before any damage was done. We are glad Mabel discovered her fondness for science soon enough so that she could devote her entire time to lab. hours for the rest of her college course. Some day we expect to hear of "The Greatest Discovery of Modern Science" by Mabel Simmons.

LEONA MABELLE SLOAN, A.B.

"A great mind is often concealed behind a modest demeanor."

Born January 25, 1900, Norway, Maine; Norway High School; Seniority, 4; Assistantship in Spanish, 4.

Leona knows a good thing when she sees it and so she decided to come back and graduate with 1923. You wouldn't think to judge by her photograph that she has already been a dignified high school teacher. That's where Leona has stolen a march on the rest of us. Not only is our Leona dignified, however, she is also — be it whispered softly — romantic. Else why the frantic perusal of Italian dictionaries and why the letters addressed to "la Signorina Leona Sloan" in a flowing foreign handwriting. But if you ask "la Signorina," the Sphinx will not be more mute.

CLARICE AUGUSTA SMALL, A.B.

"Smalley"

"The glass of fashion and the mold of form."

Born June 12, 1903, Ridlonville, Maine; Stephens High School, Rumford; Y. W. C. A.; Entre Nous, 1; Hockey 2nd, 2, 3, 4; Hiking, 3, 4; Volley Ball 2nd, 4; Basketball 2nd, 2, 3; Numerals; Athletic Board, 4.

"Smalley" is a great big lump of solid sugary happiness. She supplies Rand Hall with sunshine long after Phoebus has retired behind Mt. David and is to be commended for her sweet temper. She is universally popular on both sides of the campus and did you ever notice all kinds of good little dots about her chin that melt into one another when she laughs? Clarice is a loquacious enthusiast and believes in talking steadily (It saves energy of starting a conversation if one never ceases.) But we would not have her otherwise and she will have friends wherever she goes.

WILLIAM LEONARD TARR, B.S.

"If one shakes pebbles in a pail, the fine ones fall, the coarse ones rise. Not so with men. The fine are bound to rise."

Born October 10, 1899, New Haven, Conn.; New Haven High School; Outing Club Board of Directors, 2, 3, 4; President, 4; Hockey (class), 3; Basketball (class), 3, 4; Campus Dance Committee, 4.

Bill is an organizer and a promoter by nature. He came to us in our sophomore year and ever since he has been organizing our class, something that was needed. Soon after Bill arrived, the Outing Club was born. We will call Bill the father of the Club. He has nursed, fed, and directed this little Club until it has grown to be a big thing, one of the biggest at Bates. Thank Bill for that.

STANLEY CLYDE TILLSON, A. B.

"She should never have looked at me,
If she meant I should not love her."

Born Hallowell, Maine, January 30, 1901; Preparatory School; Belgrade High School, 1919; Circle Francais, 3, 4; Outing Club, 1, 2, 3, 4; Editor Bates' Handbook, 1923; Y. M. C. A., 1, 2, 3, 4; Press Club, 3, 4.

"Stan" has been with us for four years, yet he remains an enigma except perhaps to some particularly intimate associates. He is a likeable chap, possessing a cheerful disposition. He is noted for his week-end jaunts to — perhaps more home-like surroundings. His automobiles have been a great convenience, transporting hungry youths to and from the Commons à la jitney style. As editor-in-chief of this year's Bates "Bible" he worked untiringly to make it a worthy part of the college activities. Stan is an indefatigable worker and we expect creditable performance of him in all future pursuits.

Robert George Wade, B. S.

"Bob"

"You never really know the man on whom the terms of pomp you feel you must bestow."

Born, August 9, 1900, Rockland, Mass.; Rockland High School; Class President, 3; Politics Club, 3, 4; Military Science, 1, 2, 3, 4; Macfarlane Club, 3, 4; Hockey, 2nd team, 2; Baseball manager, 4; Glee Club, 1; Choir, 1, 2, 3, 4; Sophomore Prize Speaking Division; Ivy Day Speaker; Junior Exhibition; Assistant, Economics Dept., 2, 3, 4; Assistant in Mathematics, 3; Double Honor Student.

We approach you with great dignity, but knowing you as we do we still dare call you "Bob." '23 realized Bob's worth, and elected him president in the Junior year. Politics Club, in need of a level headed leader, knew just where to turn. The baseball team wanted an efficient manager, and—well, there was Wade. "Bob" has high ambitions. Most of us are content if we can barely scrape an acquaintance with an ex-governor; he aspires to a—what shall we say? -a-a-closer relationship. We wish you success, "Bob."

Carleton Leslie Walker, A.B.

"'Tis not the tongue that makes the bell ring sweet,
It is the metal of the bell itself."

Born December 3, 1898, Bradford, Maine; Brewer High School; Y. M. C. A., 1, 2, 3, 4; Entertainment Committee, 3; Outing Club, 4.

Speaking of tongues? We have often wondered whether Carleton had one or not. Quiet and unobstrusive yet cordial and friendly, describes Walker. He has one great dream of life:—adventure and his faithful study of Zane Gray betrays the dream. Carleton is a philosopher as would naturally be expected of one who talks so little and thinks so much. As a business man he takes a place second to no one. Oh, yes, Carleton will get there and he won't be last, either.

Marcia Edna Wallingford, A. B.

"Whatever sceptic could inquire for
For every why she had a wherefore."

Born, December 21, 1901, Alfred, Maine; Alfred High School; Y. W. C. A.; Junior Exhibition; Enkuklios, 1, 2; Seniority; Ramsdell Scientific, 4; Volley Ball, second team, 4; Honor Student; Phi Beta Kappa.

Marcia is another girl who has never been cross. She might get a Phi Beta, although the curly bobbed hair may jinx that. She is a delightful entertainer, and is very obliging. She never talks about anyone unless it is to raise that person's reputation. Exceedingly clever with a needle, Marcia creates frock after dainty frock, and we have never seen her with her shoes unshined.

Marcia might be called "The Kid" for surely she isn't a day over twelve, especially when she confidingly tucks a warm paw into yours, and gives an ecstatic little squeeze. We only hope nothing will ever spoil the comfortable companionship Marcia has always accorded us, and we never want her to be so far away we can't see her once in a while.

JOHN ROLAND WEEKS, B. S.

"For if God be the Eternal, he who shows Eternal
Perseverance fall not far
From fellowcraft with him."

Born, Warren, N. H., August 3, 1900; Meredith High School; Tilton Seminary.

John is one of our New Hampshire products, quiet, modest and retiring. For four years John reported faithfully on the gridiron each day during the football season, and although he never made his letter, no other football man ever gave any more to his Alma Mater.

Football was not John's only struggle; he delights in weighty problems. So he took mathematics for four years; this alone should certify him to the Hall of Fame. When John gets a calculus problem correct the first time, he celebrates by going to the show. We don't know how many times he has been this year.

We wish John the best of luck in his undertakings.

DOROTHY KEMPTON WHEET, A.B.

"Whatever of goodness emanates from the soul, Gathers its soft halo in thy eyes."

Born November 14, 1900, Rumford, Maine; Stephens High School; Y. W. C. A., Cabinet, 3; Student Gov., 3, 4; Freshman Prize Speaking; Sophomore Prize Speaking; STUDENT Board, 2, 3, 4, Women's Editor, 4; Entre Nous; Alethea, 2, 3; Seniority, 3, 4; Portland Club, 1, 2, 3, President, 4.

"A penny for your thoughts," Dot. No one who looks at those eyes can fail to appreciate that you have plenty of them. Are they on some weak and straggling freshman, whom you are putting on the right track, or some improvement you can make in managing the Dining Room, or just an everyday "Burdon"? There isn't a girl in the class whom we'd more safely wager will live up to college standards and make us proud she belongs to '23, than you, Dot.

NORINE WHITING, A.B.

"Bid me discourse, I will enchant thee."

Born January 1, 1902, Auburn, Maine; E. L. H. S.; Y. W. C. A.; Entre Nous; Freshman Prize Speaking; Sophomore Prize Speaking; Deutsche Verein, 3, 4; Seniority, 4; Ivy Day Speaker; MIRROR Board; Numerals; "B"; Hockey, 1, 2, 2nd, 3; Basketball, 1, 2, 3; Soccer, 1, 2; Coach of Junior Play, The Game.

This cheerful red-head (we take her word for the color of her hair) lives on the tip-top of the steepest hill in Auburn, but she nevertheless seems to have a line that draws Bates co-educators steadily, one after the other, up the elevation. She was never heard to utter a naughty or unkind word, but we lament that her seat is so often empty at the appointed place of daily worship. She thinks she's going to be a journalist, but what chance has she for a career handicapped as she is with such a smile and such hair?

Ernest Rankin Wiggin, A. B.

"Wig"

"He hath a keen eye that observeth much."

Born April 27, 1899, Jackson, N. H.; North Berwick High School; Y. M. C. A., 1, 2, 3, 4; Cercle Francais, 3, 4, Vice President, 4; Outing Club, 2, 3, 4; Band, 1, 2; Choir, 1, 2, 3, 4.

We don't know what will happen to the choir next year after "Wig" leaves. For four years "Wig's" melodious voice has rendered the doxology while we sat at attention. His musicial ability is not alone confined to his voice because he swings a mean pedal on the piano as well as playing the cornet. Wig is one of those quiet versatile chaps from whom we expect much.

Mary Dorothy Wiggin, A.B.

"Here is a spirit deep and crystal clear, Calmly beneath her earnest face it lies."

Born October 29, 1897, North Baldwin, Maine; Oak Grove Seminary; Y. W. C. A., Cabinet, 3; Religious Meetings Committee, 4; Student Gov. Board, 4; Mirror Board; Entre Nous; Alethea; Seniority, 4; Student Volunteer Band, 3, 4.

Dot's warm heart and quick sense of humour enable her to share either grief or happiness. Everyone who knows Dot feels that she is a friend in the truest sense of the word. Her judgment is sound and we respect her as a constant inspiration to us in all that is truest and best. She expects to train for a nurse and we feel sure that she will achieve unbounded success.

Class Ode

Tune — MacFarlane, "America, the Beautiful"

To thee, oh glorious college class
We pledge our fealty,
Oh symbol, thou, of comradeship
Of life and loyalty;
Thou'st taught us love and youth's ideals
To live with purpose true,
And worthy bear thy name so fair
From now till time is thru,
Oh, '23, dear '23,
We pledge our faith to you.

Thy friendships cannot be replaced,
Thy mem'ry lasts for aye,
Thy inspirations ne'er effaced
Our guide to win the way;
Such joys as thine have made us live,
Thy trials made us strive,
Oh college years, thy smiles and tears
Build character the while.
Oh, college class, and college dear,
Our prayers of thanks arise.

THEODORA BARENTZEN '23.

Class Poem

Remembered beauty shall not fade with time,
We hold it close, a white star in our sky—
The murmur of the little town, flung high,
The kindly hill where earth tired feet could climb,
With all its human bliss, — its human pain,
The silent vows we made to cherish still
High-hearted dreams we shall not know again,
And loveliness we found upon the hill.
If Life shall sometime threaten to destroy
Our hope, our faith, we shall remember nights,
Clean wind, the song youth built of love and joy,
The wave of trees, a grey stone arch, and lights.
We shall arise from any shadows deep,
We shall know peace, without desire to weep.

Amy V. Blaisdell.

The Greek Play—Medea

Following the custom established by the preceding classes, the class of '23 will present the Greek drama MEDEA on Tuesday evening of Commencement week. MEDEA stands as one of the most important and greatest of the works of Euripides.

Medea, the barbarian wife of Jason, is doomed with her children to exile in order that Jason may wed the beautiful daughter of the king of Corinth. Overpowered by her primitive passions she determines to kill Jason and his new bride for his treachery toward her. Aegeus, an old man from Argos, offers Medea a home while she is in exile, at the same time hinting to her that the children meant a great deal to Jason. Medea then decides to kill Jason's bride and the children to gain her revenge. This she does and goes into exile leaving Jason broken and miserable.

Phi Beta Kappa

On May 29, 1917 the Gamma of Maine Chapter of Phi Beta Kappa was installed at Bates as a reward for the honored place which the college holds in national scholastic activities. The long and esteemed history of the fraternity, together with the strict conditions of its membership make it a goal for all seriously minded students.

The by-laws of the Gamma Chapter permit the election of ten per cent of the Senior class, selected upon the basis of scholastic rank. The election takes place soon after the opening of the second semester.

When the Bates Chapter was installed it was thot advisable to elect graduates up to and including the class of 1907. Consequently the Chapter has each year elected not only Seniors but a delegation from the "ten year class." Altho only a certain percentage may be elected from each graduating class the doors of the Bates Chapter of Phi Beta Kappa are never closed. Members of the class who distinguish themselves in later life work will be elected to membership.

Those elected from the class of 1923 are as follows:

We, the glorious Class of 1924, have actually completed three years of our college course. There is no mystery about it. We have simply sailed along hitting the high spots and—well, perhaps we wish now we'd included some of the low spots as well. Our career since we entered this institution has been remarkably mixed up with million $ sandwiches, English 4-A Players, and various kinds of hops.

Sandwich-selling forms only one of the many projects we have promoted in order to increase our class quota for the million. Our activities are too numerous to mention, since we are confined to the high spots, but, nevertheless, important.

We are surely proud of those 4-A Players for they are the ones who have carried our class to fame by starting the first real dramatic company on campus.

As for the dancers, no Sophomore class at Bates ever "hopped" in Chase Hall before the class of 1924. To us be the honor!

Now that we have experienced Monie's English and Mac's Education we feel that life holds little more which we shall not be able to face with fortitude. So we look forward to our last year with a feeling of confidence that success is in store for us and that when our career is over we shall have added a bit to the glory of our Alma Mater.

Ivy Ode

Tune: Loch Lomond

Oh Bates, on the path that has led down the years,
Our steps have been guided by thee.
Tis thou who hast shown us the ever broadening way
Where the fruits of achievement be.
Thy sons and thy daughters would give thee, oh Bates,
The honor that none would deny thee,
As we meet once again in the circles of thy gates
To plant a bonny bit of the ivy.

Oh long may they stand as so long they have stood,
Thy walls that our forefathers builded.
Around them time shall shed a mellow light
And bright with memory's brush shall they be gilded,
For strong in thy promise of service sublime
Thou hast stood in the years that would try thee.
May our love for thee be as firm thru endless time
As thy walls that bear the clustering ivy.

Oh to be a Sophomore! Such was the sigh usually accompanied with a tinge of indignation, of many a freshie last year. Well, maybe you'd sense a bit of sympathy with this seemingly rash statement, if you'd fully experienced the life of the "Hazed" from bud to bloom; if you'd been associated with that fair Paddle to the extent where even now you get a "shockey thrill" at the mere thought of it; if your best and only suit had survived occasional forced relationships with Mother Earth plus buckets full of water, plus an ancient egg or two as a kind of everlasting seasoning—that poor old suit with but one thread resembling the original!

Why rave on? We're Sophomores now! We're quite optimistic indeed, and in glancing over the leaves in that last year's book of Bates life we find all passages blurred except those relating our never-to-be-beaten class ride that fair autumn day, the corking good banquet we had down town, and pages and pages brim full of other jolly good times we had together.

The first darkness in our Sophomore year enshrouded us as Professor Baird uttered that lone word which has lived through ages and seems still to be in the flush of youth—Forensic! In spite of this, however, many fair females of '25 have confessed a "crush on Birdie."

We love our Alma Mater. May she rightly call us "Worthy Children of '25."

1925 Sophomore Prize Speaking

Prizes were awarded Gladys J. Leahey for her interpretation of "The Mourning Veil" and Kirby S. Baker for his oratory in "The Haywood Trial-Prosecution." MacDonald; "Why Shoe Clerks Go Insane," Lois M. Simpson; "The Haywood Trial Defense," Dana J. Kenny; "A Christmas Present for a Lady," Gladys W. Hasty.

We were once called Guileless, Gross, Gramineous, Grotesque Grubs; but never again. O, no; we passed that stage when the last of the initiation was completed and we became full-fledged Freshmen. Now we can wear knickers on the street without having a fear of the hostile paddle. We can be seen with our lady or gentleman friend, as the case may be, without that guilty feeling of one who commits a crime. We know that our attempt to put girls on the Student Council was in vain, yet we hope and have faith that some day our opinions will be sought after. We know that, with three such fine upper classes for our examples, in the year of 1926 we will have become a class that will make Bates College proud.

Freshman Prize Speaking

The parts delivered this year reflected great credit upon the Public Speaking department. Prizes were awarded Mr. John Davis for his oratory in A Vision of War, and to Miss Catherine Lawton for her interpretation of the monologue, At the Box Office. The remainder of the program was as follows: No Fifty-Fifty Allegiance, Joseph Lynn Herrick; The White Ships and The Red, Madelene Grant Chapman; Their Last Ride Together, Annie Esther Leavitt; Democracy and Education, John Elmer Frazee; Gunga Din, Eleanor Coolbroth Sturgis; Address to the Fighters of France, Harold Harmon Walker; Gillette's Speech Nominating Coolidge for President, Hazen Nevers Belyea; Thoughts for the Discouraged Farmer, Iver May Stilphen; Daniel O'Connell, Ercell Mark Gordon; The Admiral's Ghost, Ruth Chesley; The Prophet's Tragedy, William Jackson Taylor; Little Brown Baby, Beatrice Evans Wright.

CLUBS

Jordan Scientific Society

Officers

President, Edward F. Roberts, '23

Secretary and Treasurer, Frederick C. Noyes, '23

Executive Committee, Paul Robinson, '23, Chairman

The Jordan Scientific Society was organized in 1910 for the purpose of promoting interest in science along lines of research and everyday problems. Its membership is restricted to eighteen members of which thirteen are seniors and five are juniors. Because of its limited membership special recommendation from the faculty is necessary.

At its meetings, which are held bi-monthly, interesting and instructive papers are presented by the members along every line of scientific work. These, combined with the interesting lectures contributed by members of the faculty, make up a very complete program.

Besides the regular meetings of the society trips are taken through local mills and manufacturing establishments in order to acquaint the members with the applied side of science.

The Jordan Scientific Exhibition, which has become one of the most interesting exhibits of the college year, has expanded so that every branch of science studied in the college receives an extensive display. The hearty cooperation of the faculty makes the exhibit one of special interest to prospective students in deciding their line of work.

The rapid growth in the society's importance has been due largely to the support given it by the late Dr. Lyman G. Jordan from whom the society received its name.

Spofford Literary Club

Officers

President, Carl E. Purinton, '23

Vice-President, Alice M. Jesseman, '23

Secretary, Amy V. Blaisdell, '23

Spofford Club, which had its birth in 1910, is one of the few clubs on campus which hold weekly meetings. The fifteen members are chosen from those students most keenly interested in creative literature, in all its branches.

Very helpful are the criticism and suggestions of the members regarding one another's work.

The programs are diversified — there are short stories, verse free and verse restrained, dramas, essays, and sketches of various sorts.

Although Spofford is literary, it has a normal and healthy nature; for its members treasure the memory of sleigh-rides, picnics, and gay parties.

Spofford Night, which occurs annually, brings an original drama before the college. The date of this event for the current year was April 27, when Spofford presented "The Honor of the Sex" a play in one act, and "Carel Learns," a two act comedy.

The club appreciates in a very real way Professor Spofford, its founder, and Professor Baird, its loyal faculty member.

Politics Club

Officers

President, Robert G. Wade, '23
Vice-President, Ernest W. Robinson, '23
Secretary, Herbert A. Carroll, '23
Treasurer, Harold C. Burdon, '23

Politics Club looks back upon another successful year. At its regular meetings subjects of current interest in the political and economic world have been presented by selected members and discussed by the club as a whole.

The club sponsored the debate on Socialism between Professor Carroll and Dr. Norman Thomas of New York. It was also the agent which brought about the visit of Mr. Kenneth Lindsay of Oxford University.

This organization, comprised of twenty-five men, meets a vital need in our college life, giving, as it does, an opportunity to discuss the big problems which the nations of the world are everywhere facing.

Phil-Hellenic

Officers

President, Ernest W. Robinson, '23
Vice-President, Ester Andersen, '23
Secretary-Treasurer, Mildred F. Baker, '23

The activities of Phil Hellenic, founded in 1916, have increased until this club is one of the best known and most popular at Bates. The aim of this organization is to promote a genuine interest in the classics, especially in Greek and Greek literature, and a greater appreciation of modern Greece through acquaintance with the Greek people of Lewiston.

Worth while programs are presented at the bi-monthly meetings including debates, illustrated lectures, pantomimes of Greek life, talks by Greek friends, by the Faculty and by the students. Typical subjects which have been considered are Modern Greece, The Greek Mind, Olympics of Today, Famous Men of Greece, Contributions of Greece to Civilization.

Phil-Hellenic has been greatly aided in its development through the efforts of George M. Chase, Professor of Greek. Membership in the club is limited to thirty-five members chosen from those students having a straight B in Greek or Greek Drama.

The social side of Phil-Hellenic should not be overlooked. Every year a banquet is given at which both the Greeks of Lewiston and the members of the Club cooperate. The Symposium carried out in true Greek style is one of the most delightful affairs of the year. The Greek Play with its classic appeal is an important part of the club program.

The progressive democratic spirit of Phil-Hellenic promises well for the future.

Military Science

Officers

President, Herbert R. Bean, '23

Secretary-Treasurer, John G. Fogg, '23

The Military Science Club through the assistance of Dr. Tubbs has developed into one of the most progressive organizations in the college. The object of the society is to instruct as well as to promote interest along the lines of military tactics and warfare. The membership for the present year numbers twenty-five.

The club is highly indebted to Dr. Tubbs for his interesting and instructive lectures. These talks, together with personal experiences of the World War members, have kindled much interest in the meetings of the past year.

The Press Club

Officers

President, Harris C. Palmer '23
Vice President, Amy V. Blaisdell '23
Secretary-Treasurer, Daniel Turner '24
Editorial Board, Theodore Pinckney '23, Chairman
Walter V. Gavigan '24
John F. O'Connor '25
Florence L. Cook '25
Grace F. Goddard '25

The Press Club was organized early in the fall of 1921 by some thirty students particularly interested in journalism who wished to combine practical newspaper work with the theoretical study of the subject. To further the latter purpose, a program of speakers was arranged for the meetings. Valuable lectures on journalism have been delivered by "Sam" Connor, Arthur Staples, and other men of wide reportorial experience.

For actual journalistic work, the club has affiliations with New England newspapers and through them keeps the public informed of what Bates College is doing. The members are organized into groups each of which is headed by a member of the editorial board and is responsible for collection of news of one phase of our college activities — athletics, debating, social affairs, or club life. This efficient organization has also proved extremely helpful to the Publicity Department of the Million Dollar Drive.

The Press Club has at present twenty-five members who meet every second Monday night at Libbey Forum to transact business and enjoy a short program. Although it has been in existence for such a short time, it has already accomplished much that is worth while and includes among its plans for the future the intention to work for the addition of a regular course in journalism to the college curriculum.

Seniority

Officers

President, Elsie L. Roberts

Vice President, Alice M. Jesseman

Secretary-Treasurer, Hazel E. Prescott

In 1914 a group of Junior and Senior girls organized themselves into a society to study and discuss literary subjects. The society was reorganized this year under a new constitution. keeping much of the spirit of the charter members, but limiting the membership by the plan found most feasible the last few years.

Seniors who have attained the rank of "at least B" in English courses are eligible for membership and five Juniors are to be chosen each year in order that the spirit of Seniority may continue. Louise Bryant, Helen Chase, Florence Hodgkins, Mildred Lincoln, and Elizabeth Powers were chosen this year from '24.

Meetings have been held as usual on the second and fourth Thursdays of each month, and they have been given over to some very enjoyable and instructive programs. One was devoted to Norway, its music and literature, another to the presentation of original compositions. Other interesting subjects included selections and reviews of modern drama, poetry and sketches of the background and works of four New England authoresses. It is regretted that plans for the customary Seniority Night were interrupted by the period of quarantine. The final meeting of the year was, as usual, turned over to Dr. Hartshorn who rendered a variety of poetic selections in his usual pleasing manner.

Alethea

Officers

President, Marcella M. Harradon, '24

Vice-President, Mildred S. Stanley, '25

Secretary and Treasurer, Geraldine D. Smith, '24

Alethea is an enterprising literary society whose membership is composed of girls from the junior and sophomore classes. The organization was formerly known as the U. A. C. C., but was later reorganized into its present form.

The aim of Alethea is to promote an interest in the liberal arts and to keep its members in touch with current problems and events. In an endeavor to carry out this purpose interesting and varied programs are presented by the program committee at the bi-monthly meetings. Various phases of music, literature, and art are discussed, making the meetings very much worth while. At various times during the year outings are held, which help to keep the girls close together in social as well as in literary activities.

Entre Nous

Officers

President, Agnes S. Waddell, '26 Vice-President, Gladys E. Milliken, '26

Entre Nous, an organization unique for freshman girls, has as its aim breadth of vision and greater social fusion for its members. At the regular monthly meetings of the society topics of current interest are discussed, and the views of the girls solicited. Subjects from drama, poetry, art, music, dancing, and many other realms of artistic expression are drawn upon, and at periodic times the girls make merry at various social functions.

The present year has been a marked success in every way. The programs which have been presented have brought to light much ability which otherwise would have remained undiscovered. The work which has been accomplished will furnish a splendid background for literary and artistic presentations in the years to come.

Ramsdell Scientific Society

Officers

President, Theodora R. Barentzen, '23

Vice-President, Eleanor G. Wilson, '24

Secretary, Mabel R. Simmons, '23

Ramsdell Scientific Society was founded in 1919 through the efforts of Juniors and Seniors who were especially interested in science. It was named in honor of Professor Ramsdell who has been a valuable help in promoting the progress of the organization. The purpose of the society is to promote an interest in scientific matters among the girls of Bates College, and has steadily succeeded in this undertaking.

The club consists of fifteen members chosen from the Junior and Senior classes. They must be recommended by the heads of two science departments or have had two consecutive recommendations from one department. The branches of science represented are Biology, Chemistry, Physics, Mathematics, and Forestry.

The meetings are held in Carnegie Science Hall on the first and third Thursday evenings of each month. Original papers on scientific subjects are given by members of the society. Among the subjects this year are "Coal in China," "Radioactivity," "Darwinism," and "The Valley of Ten Thousand Smokes." Occasionally an outside speaker talks on some branch of science in which he is particularly interested. This year Dr. Tubbs gave a very instructive lecture on "The Fundamental Unit in Astronomy." The program is varied by trips to various places of scientific interest where many valuable suggestions are obtained by the members.

Der Deutsche Verein

Officers

President, Paul Wolynec, '24

Vice-President, Alta Harris, '23

Secretary-Treasurer, Alice Blouin, '23

The German Club, which was reorganized in May, 1921, is one of the most active organizations at Bates. Its object is to create an active interest in the literature and life of the German people. It has the distinction of being the first club on the campus to present a play for the benefit of the Million Dollar Fund. Two plays were given: one in English, the other in German.

The social element finds expression in various ways. A social half hour usually follows the meetings, during which German games are played and German songs sung. The annual Christmas tree is eagerly anticipated by all the members.

Membership is limited to thirty-five from the Senior and Junior classes who have had a certain amount of German. The club owes much of its progress to Dr. Leonard, whose enthusiasm and helpful suggestions are greatly appreciated. In every way the year's work has been a marked success.

Le Cercle Francais

Officers

President, Jeanne C. Bachelin, '23

Vice-President, Ernest R. Wiggin, '23

Secretary-Treasurer, Valerie F. McAlister, '23

Until the year 1922 "Le Cercle Français" had been the name of the men's French society and "Le Petit Salon" the name of the corresponding women's organization. At the beginning of that year it was planned to unite the two organizations into one club to be called "Le Cercle Français". The plan proved to be very successful and much enthusiasm has been shown.

The meetings have been well attended and pleasing programs have been presented in which members of the club have taken part. A special feature has been the presentation of short one-act plays.

Under the helpful guidance of Professor Brown, "Le Cercle Français" endeavors to promote a friendly feeling and mutual interest between its members and the French people of Lewiston.

The members of the club feel that, in supporting the activities of "Le Cercle Français" they have not only been well repaid in a greater interest in French literature and all things French, but they have also helped to prove that "Le Cercle Français" is a real live organization and one which holds a prominent place among the various campus activities.

Macfarlane Club

Officers

President, Henry A. Rich, '24
Vice-President, Marjorie Pillsbury, '23
Secretary-Treasurer, Ruth B. Leader, '23

The Macfarlane Club has been in existence six years and at the present time has a limited membership of twenty-five students who have manifested an unusual interest along musical lines.

The organization was named in honor of the former Portland Municipal Organist, Mr. William C. Macfarlane, who was very much interested in the musical activities at Bates.

The meetings are held twice a month and are informal. Papers on musical matters and personages are read and musical programs are offered by the members. The aim is to create a greater appreciation of the best music through the study of the most famous composers and their works.

Girls' Orchestra

Girls' Musical Clubs

Glee Club

Leader, Marjorie E. Pillsbury, '23 Manager, Hazel M. Monteith, '23

Orchestra

Leader, Ruth B. Leader, '23 Manager, Elizabeth B. Powers, '24

The Girls' Musical Clubs are composed of the Glee Club and Orchestra. The membership to the Glee Club is competitive and this year numbers thirty-six; to the Orchestra, however, all girls who play instruments of any kind are invited to participate. This year has been one of progress not only in out of town concerts but also in presentations at home. Much of the success of both organizations is due to the helpful suggestions offered by Mr. Edwin Goss and Mr. Doane. The unusual enthusiasm which has been manifested along musical lines this year predicts success for the future.

Men's Musical Clubs

Director, Mr. Roland F. Doane Glee Club Leader, Herman Faust '24
Mandolin Club Leader, John G. Fogg '23

The Musical Clubs have endeavored this year to give concerts of the highest character, which, however, has been no more than in accord with the modern movement to improve collegiate music. Like all good college musical clubs they have memorized their scores, a practice which in itself emphasizes the fact that only the best music is worth the effort of memorization.

Mr. Faust's vigorous leadership, supported by his talent for music, was in a large degree responsible for whatever success can be claimed by the Glee Club. Mr. Fogg as leader of the Mandolin Club had merely to pick up his banjo and the rest of the club was instantly and inevitably symphonized.

Early in the season an orchestra was added to the two existing clubs. This was ably led by Mr. Monaghan, though only a Freshman. But the chief commendation must be of the rank and file who, by their attendance and practice at rehearsals, made achievement possible.

The three concerts at Canton, Livermore Falls, Farmington and Gardiner were a success financially, and the Clubs have reason to believe musically. At least the audiences were appreciative.

On April 28th a home concert was given in Chase Hall in which the clubs were assisted by Mr. Elton Young as reader and Mr. Walter Ganigan as dancer.

Great credit is due Mr. Roland F. Doane, who so ably directed the Clubs and inspired enthusiasm by his personal interest.

The College Choir

President, Robert G. Wade, '23

Vice-President, Marjorie E. Pillsbury, '23

Librarian, Paul O. Libby, '24

A vital part of any religious service is the music. The morning chapel exercises at Bates are greatly aided by the college choir which renders anthems and responses, and furnishes soloists at regular intervals. Only the best musical talent is made use of in this organization. Every fall try-outs are held and the members chosen on a competitive basis. Rehearsals are held every Friday evening under the direction of Mr. Edwin L. Goss. The value which is attached to this organization is evidenced by the fact that credits are given to the members toward graduation.

The work this year has been particularly successful. The Sunday afternoon Vespers and the annual cantata were very much enjoyed not only by the student body but by the citizens of Lewiston and Auburn.

The English 4A Players

Officers

Chairman, Wilbur M. Batten '24
Director, Alice M. Blouin '23
Manager, Elton E. Young '24

Play Committee — Janice Hoit '24, Alice M. Blouin '23, Walter V. Gavigan '24

The English 4A Players are a group of students vitally interested in all that pertains to dramatic art. As an organization, the club is the outgrowth of the class in the drama mentioned in the college catalog as English 4A and conducted by Professor A. Craig Baird who in addition to being Professor of English and Argumentation, finds time to act as State of Maine director for the Drama League of America. Under his guidance two original plays were produced in May, 1922 at the Little Theatre. These were The Morrice Train — A medieval Tragedy by Walter V. Gavigan '24 and Bluff Now and Then — A Modern Comedy by Esther C. Kisk '24. The students who appeared in these plays, banded together in the fall of 1922 and made a more pretentious attempt in the field of the drama, by giving a very delightful program of one act plays; In the Shadow of the Glen by John Millington Synge; The Game by Louise Bryant, and Winifred Hawkbridge's scintillating comedy The Florist Shop. Encouraged by the way in which the plays were received, the players decided to form a definite organization, membership in which is based upon interest and distinction in some branch of dramatics.

The last program of the club, given in May, 1923, included: What They Think by Rachel Crothers, The Curtain by Hallie F. Flanagan and The Trysting Place by Booth Tarkington. Thru the efforts of the club, which is being ably supervised by Professors Baird and Robinson of the faculty, Bates claims the unique distinction of being the first college in the state of Maine to actively espouse the Little Theatre movement, which is rapidly gaining favor thruout the country.

Vice President, James B. Hamlin '23
Secretary-Treasurer, Frank F. McGinley '24

The Student Council became an active organization at Bates in 1910. Since that time, with steadily increasing strength, the Council has proved itself to be one of the most beneficial organizations on the campus.

As the governing body of the men the principal object of the Council is to promote the general welfare of the college by bettering the conditions of college life and by securing harmony and co-operation among the classes and individuals.

The members of the Council are elected by popular vote, each class being represented.

The Council for 1922-23 has tried to be more than a mere governing body and feels that the year has been a success. It appreciates the fact that only the hearty support of both faculty and student body has made this success possible.

Student Government

Officers

President, Nelly Milliken, '23

Vice-President, Elizabeth Powers, '24

Secretary-Treasurer, Marcella Harradon, '24

The women of Bates College have placed their stamp of approval on the organization of Student Government. It was first introduced in the spring of 1921, and it is now a firmly established institution of the college. The Judiciary Board has been given the hearty support of the student body in its efforts to carry out the spirit and principles involved in such an organization, and this cooperation has guaranteed its success.

The Bates Association is now a member of the International Organization, with the privilege of sending representatives to the annual conference. The adoption and success of Student Government mark a step in the progress of Bates College.

The Commons this year has been maintained very successfully under the new regime. Miss Sarah Nickerson, who for the past few years has efficiently managed the Rand Hall dining room, replaced Mrs. Lucy Hilton and Professor Gould, faculty adviser, and managed the men's dining hall as well as the ladies' for the first semester. She was succeeded by Mrs. Eva Engleman, who has very successfully and efficiently managed the Commons from the beginning of the new year.

Mr. Harry W. Rowe, Bursar and Faculty Adviser, made it possible for the complete renovation of the hall and equipment.

It has been the earnest endeavor of the administration to make the dining hall most congenial and homelike.

One of the new features are the linen tablecloths. There has been a slight advance in the price for board. The food has been most excellent, due mainly to untiring efforts of "Mother" Stevens, who has been with us for a number of years. Too much praise cannot be given Mrs. Engleman and Mrs. Stevens and force who fed the sick ones during the epidemic.

The Commons this year has been exceptionally well supported by the students. Their co-operation has been instrumental in keeping the board at a minimum rate. A faculty table with individual service was instituted and has proved very satisfactory. On the whole the year has been a marked success.

Under the guiding hand of the class of 1923, The Bates Student has enjoyed one of the most successful years in its history. Alive to the real college issues of the day, playing its part well in the ever-important Million Dollar Drive, boosting Bates stock every step of the way, our weekly newspaper has demonstrated the best in modern college journalism.

Efficient news service has been one aim of the board. Time and again the printing of the paper has been held up in order that eleventh hour material might be included.

Variety of material appearing in the paper has been another goal, finding expression in feature articles of all kinds, human interest stories, campus, alumni, and sport notes, literary items, society jottings, a column a week of jokes — all beside the "strictly news." Forty cuts and more have enlivened the appearance of the thirty issues for the year.

A real achievement of the 1923 Student Board is the reestablishment of the magazine supplement under the form of The Garnet.

The underlying policy of the paper has been to keep fresh in the minds of the student body the highest ideals and traditions of the college.

A book of Bates!

While the 1923 MIRROR is edited by members of the senior class, and while it is particularly of interest to seniors, yet it is not merely a class book, but much more.

It is an all-college book, with a detailed account of the year 1922-1923, a treasury of Bates life for these past nine months.

May this year's book keep fresh in the minds of its possessors the Bates they knew, her professors, her students, her campus, her buildings — and the many more things that make up a college.

Each year finds some improvement made over the previous year's MIRROR. We hope that this old rule may be found true when this book is read. New features have been added over past years. An attempt has been made to make the book not only more artistic, but also more interesting than ever before.

The MIRROR Board has worked tirelessly and joyfully in compiling this record. It will have its full reward if it has created a book that may be called truly representative of Bates.

Hail to our Alma Mater!

A Look Backward

Crossing Lake Champlain

Silver Bay. Eight Bates men, including Secretary A. L. Purinton and Professor C. A. Jenkins, motored from Lewiston to Silver Bay on Lake George, N. Y. and attended the New England Student Conference. There for eight days, June 15 to 23, the Bates delegation had the "time of their lives" in sport and study with students from all of New England.

Fall Retreat. The annual "setting up" conference was held at the State "Y" Camp last fall in conjunction with the Christian Associations of the other Maine colleges. Out of thirty-seven men present at Lake Cobbosseecontee, twenty-one were from Bates. This week-end of September 15-17 filled the Bates group with enthusiasm for the fall work.

Welcome Freshmen! For three days preceding the Thursday of college opening, every train arriving in Lewiston was met by "Y" autos and new Bates men were taken to the campus. The "Y" Service Tent was maintained in front of Coram Library for information purposes, while the Chase Hall office was open at all hours. "Freshman Bibles" were eagerly read by incoming students. A "stag" reception, a joint reception with the Y. W. C. A., the annual "Uncle Johnny" ride and a cordial welcome to attend the Wednesday evening meetings were additional greetings to new students.

Employment. "Can you get me a job?" "We'll try." During the fall term, the Employment Bureau located over a hundred jobs for fifty-seven different men. Many of these jobs turned out to be regular part time work.

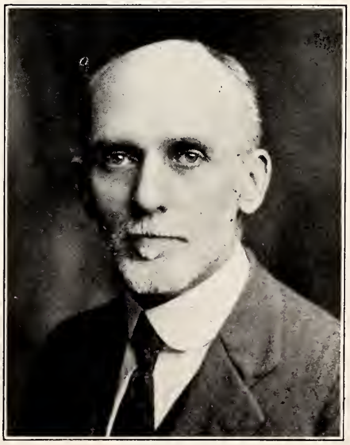
Chase Hall Activities. Regular bi-monthly movie shows have been run by the Entertainment Committee. A novel feature in "indoor sports" was introduced when a tournament in bowling, pool, etc. was arranged between a team of Bates men and the local St. Dominique (French) club. This tournament and a return match were both won by the local club, but what did that matter?

Voluntary Study Groups. An average of 142 men met in discussion groups each week, for a period of eight weeks during the fall term, — a marked improvement over the weekly total of the previous year, which was 53.

Eight freshman groups met and discussed topics vital to men entering the college environment for the first time. The leaders were Professor A. C. Baird, Professor O. F. Cutts, Professor C. A. Jenkins, Professor F. A. Knapp, Professor R. A. F. McDonald, Mr. A. L. Purinton, Mr. Carleton Wiggin, and Mr. E. A. Woodward.

A sophomore group was conducted in each dormitory, with Professor G. M. Chase, Professor W. A. Lawrance, and Professor W. H. Sawyer as leaders.

The Junior-Senior Forum on "Religious Problems" was one of the outstanding successes of the Voluntary Study program. Dr. F. D. Tubbs was the leader of this group. There was an average attendance of thirty-five men.



Dr. F. D. Tubbs

Wednesday Six Forty Fives. Weekly religious meetings have been held during the sessions of the college with an attendance ranging from forty to sixty. The highest number at any one meeting was 69.

The policy has been to obtain speakers from the faculty, pastors and laymen of Lewiston and Auburn, and from different parts of the state and New England. Each meeting has been conducted, however, by a student belonging to the association.

Among those who have presented messages have been Jefferson C. Smith, State Y. M. C. A. Secretary, Rev. J. Charles MacDonald of Auburn, President Clifton D. Gray, Mayor Cummings of Auburn, Mr. A. H. MacCormack of Bowdoin, Dr. A. C. Goddard of Portland, Rev. G. F. Finnie of Lewiston, Dr. F. D. Tubbs, Rev. M. E. Pearson of Auburn, Mr. Allen H. King of Portland, Professor C. A. Jenkins, and many others.

Two joint meetings with the Y. W. C. A., held in Chase Hall, were very successful. The Christmas meeting was addressed by Dr. A. N. Leonard, while Professor S. F. Harms spoke in January.

Deputation Schedule.

> "The Y. M. C. A. opened the deputation season very successfully last Sunday with the sending of a team to North Anson. Three services were held during the day and a total of 350 people were addressed. The team consisted of Secretary Purinton, Ernest Robinson '23, Theodore Pinckney '23, Lester Diehl '23, and Frank Dorr, '25."
>
> —Bates Student, October 20.

During the past year, eighteen deputation teams consisting of two or more members have been sent out.

The towns visited were Mechanic Falls, Saco, Bethel, Norway, No. Livermore, Bethel, West Minot, Walnut Hill, Livermore Falls, No. Anson, Monmouth, Falmouth, Litchfield, Harrison, Hebron, New Gloucester, Lewiston, and Freeport.

Approximately twenty-five different men have assisted in this work.

In addition to the deputations enumerated above, there should be recorded six cases in which individual students were sent to conduct services.

Wayne C. Jordan '06

Bates in China. "Keep the Jordans in China" was the slogan of the committee chosen from the four classes to push through the annual Bates-in-China drive.

The committee consisted of C. Walter Johnson '24, chairman; A. C. Descoteau '23; Ester Andersen '23; Herman Faust '24; Mrs. Arthur Burns '24; Karl Steady '25; Miss Stanley '25; R. B. Chapman '26; Margaret Lombard '26; with A. L. Purinton and S. F. Harms as Faculty Advisers.

Some people said it couldn't be done, but the committee went straight ahead and netted a total of $937. "Over the Top."

Y. W. C. A.

Retrospection

When the votes were counted at the annual election of the Bates Y. W. C. A. in 1922, Gertrude L. Lombard, better known as "Bunny," was found to be president for the year 1922-1923, with Elizabeth Powers '24, vice president; Elsie Brickett '25, secretary; Alice Cunningham '23, treasurer; and Vivian Milliken '24, undergraduate representative. These officers together with an efficient group of committee chairmen constituted the cabinet which is the guiding body of the association. Before plunging into their various tasks, however, the new members of the cabinet united with the old in a joyous and vitalizing conference which took the form of a Long Island house party at Casco Bay. Returning from this trip early in June, 1922, the new cabinet looked forward with confident enthusiasm to the duties of the year.

Maqua Conference

Maqua is a place of birches, you should know—a hunting ground of joy unending for one who bears a camera. During the 1922 conference, the place was certainly as busy and delightful as any summer camp, with its tennis courts, diving float—and besides the spring boards, don't forget the shoot!—boats, and in the lodge a solitary pool table.

As to the program of the day, for those with the strength of their convictions an early plunge before a 7.30 breakfast, then a morning of classes. Classes at camp—horrors! Multiplied! But these were quite harmless, and very informal in nature. Some were lectures in the roughly finished open building by the lakeshore; others were informal discussion groups of say a dozen girls from the different colleges, assembled on a cottage porch. Practically all of the New England colleges, and many of the normal schools were represented at Maqua last year—such an assemblage of girls as you never saw before. Bates showed up well with a delegation of thirteen. The chief charm of Camp Maqua seemed to lie in its perfect blending of the serious and the frivolous, classes and sports. Who can ever forget one of those moonlight song groups on the pier or about the campfire? Yet with all the atmosphere of sports and leisure redundant, there was the underlying current of the quest for knowledge:

"We are here in search of truth,
Trying, with uncertain key,
Door by door of mystery;
We are groping through His laws
To the garment hem of Cause."

Summer and Fall Activities

Before the upperclass girls go home in June, each one chooses a "Freshman sister" to whom she writes during the summer. In this exchange of friendly letters helpful and interesting information is given to the new girls. The Freshman handbooks are sent to each girl; in these is found a short description of all college activities and the girls are able to become somewhat familiar with Bates customs and traditions before they enter college.

At the opening of college each train is met by Y. W. members, and the new girls are quickly found and escorted to their respective houses. On the first afternoon of college a reception is given on Mt. David. Here the Freshmen are welcomed by faculty ladies and the upperclassmen. On the first Saturday night in the fall the Y. W. unites with the Y. M. in giving a reception in Chase Hall to the Freshman class. The annual class ride a week or so later is one of the big events for the entering class, and the all-day picnic furnishes a great opportunity for the forming of new acquaintances.

A membership drive is conducted among the Freshman girls in November. Its purpose is to give them an opportunity to become Y. W. members and thus to promote their growth in Christian faith and devotion.

This, in brief, is the way the Bates Y. W. C. A. began its year's work in September, 1922, under the leadership of the proper committees.

Bates-in-China Drive

For a number of years Bates has contributed toward the support of our alumni in China, Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Jordan. This year a campaign committee was elected, with two representatives from each class, one from each of the Christian Associations, and one from the Faculty. In spite of the many drives we had been subjected to, Bates showed the good old spirit and raised a fund of approximately $930.

Student Friendship

Student Friendship Headquarters has been kept well in touch with Bates during the past season. for work in behalf of the fund and the general spreading of propaganda along this line have been some of the most vigorous activities of our undergraduate representative.

Bible Study

The Bates Y. W. C. A. has the management of another phase of college work to its credit, that of Bible Study. Classes are held during the latter part of October and the four weeks of November on Sunday afternoon. The girls meet in the various dormitories for an hour just before the evening meal to study the Book so dear to us all, and to gain new thoughts and inspirations from exchanging ideas with a noble and competent leader. The leaders endeavor to give solutions to the many problems which arise from trying to carry out the principles of Jesus on the college campus, and later in the greater school of life itself. This year the Junior and Senior classes were most fortunate in having Dr. Tubbs as leader, while Mrs. Gray and Mrs. Chase conducted in a most pleasing manner the Sophomore and Freshman classes.

Annual Bazaar in Chase Hall

Our Christmas bazaar this year looked like a gorgeous Japanese flower garden, with its masses of bloom—wistaria, roses, and chrysanthemums. The booths were very lovely with fancy work, novelties, and delicate trifles from Japan, while the time-honored grab-bag was transformed into a most unusual well. The Freshmen sold delicious home-made candy, and the Juniors added a new feature in the form of a men's table framed with bachelor buttons and displaying every-variety of masculine needs and vanities.

Tea was served downstairs in the afternoon, and at six o'clock a delicious oyster stew supper was prepared for the hungry shoppers, who wished to stay over for the evening entertainment. The latter was a succession of happy surprises. All who took part in the dainty dances, clever dialogues, or charming tableaux, undeniably distinguished themselves. We thank "Bobby" Howe for the splendid success of the evening, "Babe" Prescott for the fine supper, and because we cannot thank all the others individually, we thank "Lib" Files who had charge of it all.

Religious Meetings

The Y. W. C. A. meets every Wednesday evening for a service of worship and discussion. Student speakers often present some subject of interest to a college audience, and several open forums have been held.

We have heard some very fine outside speakers this year, among them President Merrill of Central College in Turkey; Mary Dalydiate from the International Institute in Lewiston; and local pastors. In the fall a series of meetings was devoted to the explanation of the Y. W. C. A. by various means for the benefit of the Freshmen, prior to the membership canvass. The World Fellowship Committee occasionally tells us of students in other lands, and several very enjoyable meetings are held each year with the Y. M. C. A.

Social Service Work

The Social Service Department is one of the most active branches of the Bates Y. W. C. A. Its manifold deeds can not be adequately told in so short a space, but among its outstanding works of the past year are Thansgiving dinners, Christmas trees, sunshine boxes, instruction classes at the Lewiston-Auburn Y. W., and the sending of flowers to local families and institutions. Regular services are held on Sunday afternoons at the local homes for the aged, and in general, the committee is successful in making itself an instrument of cheer and blessing in city circles.

Student Volunteer Group

Leader, Philip S. Nason, '23 Secretary-Treasurer, Beatrice M. Adams, '23

The Student Volunteer Group represents one phase of the religious interests at Bates, namely, missions. Members of the Group have definitely decided to make foreign missionary fields the center of their life work, and have been accepted by the Student Volunteer movement at New York as favorable candidates for such.

The purpose of the banding together of Student Volunteers in any locality is for the development of missionary interests and for a more systematic relationship with headquarters. The Bates group has not limited its concern to foreign fields alone, however, as has been shown by the extensive deputation work which it has accomplished last year and this. A successful conference for all the volunteers in the State was held at Bates this year and through the united efforts of the Colby and Bates Student Volunteers a new Union for Maine was organized. There are nineteen Student Volunteers at Bates.

The Bates Debating Council is the official organization which promotes class, scholastic, and intercollegiate debating. Every year an interscholastic tournament is held. The Council negotiates all varsity contests. Membership in the Council is limited to sophomore prize debaters, all varsity debaters, and one representative from each class representing the student body. Women members were eligible for the first time during the past year.

A most important reorganization took place in the fall of 1922. Under the new arrangement, meetings are held regularly every second Wednesday, and at these in addition to the ordinary business, an open forum discussion is held upon timely topics. The plan is similar to the Oxford system, and has met with much approval.

Members for 1922-23 are, besides the officers: Herbert A. Carroll, '23; Theodore R. Pinckney, '23; Vivienne I. Rogers, '23; Mildred F. Baker, '23; Arthur W. Pollister, '24; Edward W. The debating Star of Bates continues in the ascendency. The past year with its victories over Oxford, Yale and Bowdoin proves that the only chapter of Delta Sigma Rho in Maine is continuing to uphold the high traditions of that national debating fraternity.

The Bates Chapter is represented by over fifty brothers including several from the faculty. It was organized April 30, 1915, and is recognized everywhere as the leading forensic society.

Membership in this fraternity is limited to those who have distinguished themselves in intercollegiate debates. The gold key is embematic of the highest honor a debater can obtain.

Bates System of Debating

Professor A. C. Baird

According to the latest figures, Bates has participated during its debating history in fifty-five debates. Of this number Bates has won forty-five. A splendid record. It might be interesting to many readers to cite a few of the reasons why we consider Bates has made such a splendid record and to outline the general mechanics of preparation. The factors are as follows:

The traditions of debating here play a large share in continued success to our teams. Traditions fostered by such men as J. Y. Stanton, G. C. Chase, and others cannot help but spur men on to victory.

The work of the various teachers of debating. Prof. G. C. Chase, 1895-1901; Prof. W. T. Foster, 1901-1903; Prof. W. E. McNeill, 1903-1906; Prof. A. K Spofford, 1906-1909; Prof. J. M. Carroll, 1909-1912; Prof. S. R. Oldham, 1912-1913 and Prof. A. C. Baird, 1913 — to date.

The specific methods and principles of training for the teams, which principles and methods include:—

A. Hard and thoro work with a definite schedule of preparation to be followed.

B. As complete a knowledge of the subject as time permits.

C. Careful brief making.

D. The writing of speeches for the purposes of developing a wide and flexible vocabulary and of condensing the material.

E. Great emphasis on rebuttal practice.

F. The development of conversational style of delivery and insistence upon the extemporaneous style of delivery as contrasted with the method of memorizing.

The Oxford Debate

Bates probably reached the pinnacle of her most enviable debating record on September 26, 1922, when the Bates Debating team composed of Erwin D. Canham '25, Richard C. Pollister '24, and William E. Young '24 defeated the Oxford University debating team in Lewiston City Hall in the first International Collegiate debate held in America.

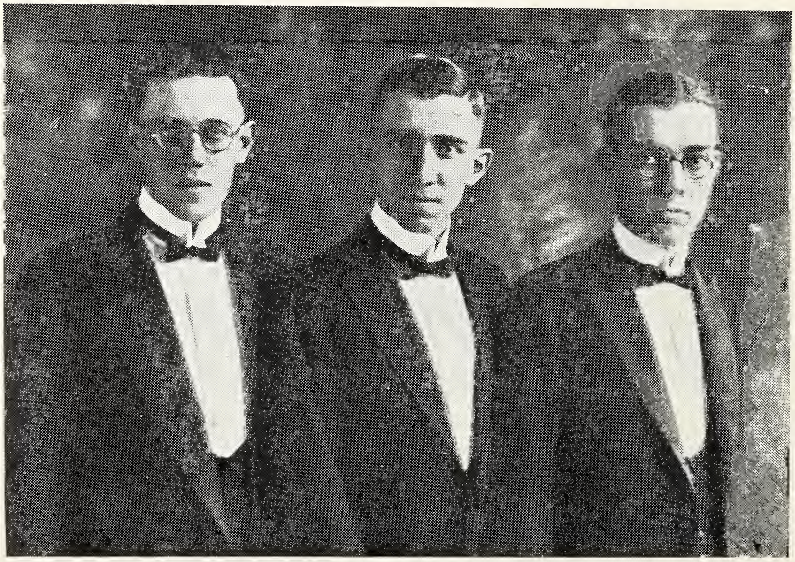
The Oxford team was composed of Edward Marjoribanks of Christ College, President of Oxford Union; Maurice C. Hollis of Balliol College, Secretary of the Union; and Maqboll Mahmood, a Rhodes Scholar from India, and President of the Oxford International Union.

The question was: "Resolved, that the United States should at once enter the League of Nations." The Bates Team upheld the negative side of the case and received the decision by a two to one vote of the judges, and also by the popular vote of the audience which resulted in 1301 votes for Bates against 115 votes for Oxford.

Nation Wide Interest

Governor Percival Baxter of Maine presided at the debate and commented upon its tremendous significance. Hundreds of prominent men and women came to Lewiston from other cities and towns, even from great distances, to hear the contest. Tickets for the occasion were sold out three or four days beforehand and the audience that filled the municipal hall that evening was described by a local paper as being the largest that has gathered there since Roosevelt visited Lewiston in 1916.

Newspaper reports concerning the visit of the Oxford debaters to Lewiston, and the subsequent victory, were carried in papers as far south as Washington, D. C. It aroused editorial comment in the Outlook, New York and Philadelphia newspapers, concerning the relative merits of the English and American debating systems.



BATES 2: OXFORD 1

Oxford-Bates Debate Unique

The Oxford debate at Bates was unique in that it was the only contest, in which the Oxonians participated, where a board of judges rendered a decision. After the debate with Bates the Oxford University men met several other American colleges and universities, including Harvard, Columbia, Yale, Princeton, Swarthmore, and the University of Pennyslvania. Besides at Bates they lost only at Harvard and the University of Pennsylvania. The debate at Columbia University was virtually a tie.

Bates 3: Yale 0

On the evening of December 16 at Sprague Memorial Hall, New Haven, Connecticut the Bates debating team met a team representing Yale University for a debate on the question, "Resolved that government ownership of coal mines in the United States would be desirable — constitutionality granted."

The team representing Yale was composed of Willis Jerome Ballinger '23; Horace Jeremiah Voorhis '23; Thomas Vennum '23. Opposed to this team were Herbert Beaumont Morrell '25; Erwin Dain Canham '25; and William Ernest Young '24. The presiding officer was Mr. Amos P. Wilder, editor of the New Haven Courier.

The judges, Mr. Thomas M. Steele of New Haven, Conn.; Professor Malcolm Kier of Dartmouth College; and Judge Ernest C. Simpson of New Haven rendered a unanimous decision in favor of Bates.

Bates-Bowdoin Debate

The final debate of the season was held on the evening of May 10 in the Lewiston City Hall. The question was: "Resolved, that the proposal of President Harding that the United States join the world court meets the approval of this assembly."

Bates upheld the affirmative of the question. Her team consisted of Erwin D. Canham, Theodore R. Pinckney, and William E. Young, while Bowdoin was represented by Theodore Cousens, Athearn Daggett, and Roy M. Fitzmorris, with Richard H. Lee as alternate. Verdict was unanimous for Bates.

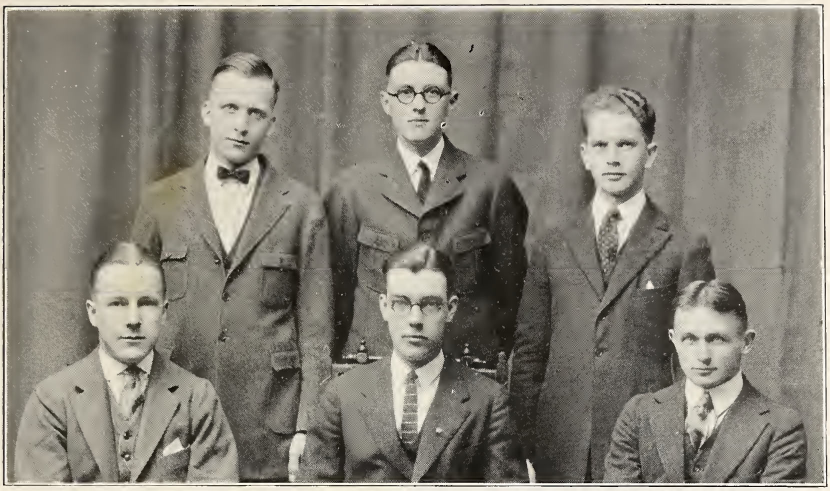
Sophomore Men's Debate



The annual debate of the men of the Sophomore class was held Monday, April 9, in Hathorn Hall. The question was: "Resolved, that the United States should adopt the cabinet system of government as it now exists in England."

The decision was awarded the affirmative team composed of Kirby S. Baker, George C. Sheldon, and Frank E. Dorr. The negative was upheld by Erwin D. Canham, Adelbert H. Googins, and Lewis E. Walton.

Erwin D. Canham was awarded the prize for the best individual speaker.

Sophomore Girls' Debate

The sophomore debate in the women's division was held in Hathorn Hall on the evening of Wednesday, April 23. The members of the teams were:

Mildred S. Stanley	Eleanor L. McCue
Verna E. Diggle	Ruth Nutter

The judges voted 2 to 1 in favor of the negative, while the audience voted 21 to 18 also for the negative. Miss Eleanor McCue was chosen as the best speaker.

The annual freshman prize debate was held in the Little Theater, Hathorn Hall, on Thursday evening, April twelfth. The question was: Resolved, that the Federal government should provide for the compulsory arbitration of disputes between capital and labor in the railroad and coal mining industries. (Constitutionality waived). The event was in every way a success. Our genial Dean of Men presided, and a trio from Parker Hall furnished excellent music. Contrary to the expectations of a good many, the affirmative team won the decision; and we blame Taylor for upsetting our predictions. Taylor won for his team a unanimous victory, and for himself he won the unanimous decision of the judges as the best individual debater. Taylor is to be complimented for his clear logic and his easy platform manner. He has the very rare ability of giving the audience the impression of absolute confidence without giving the impression of over-confidence. Davis was unanimously chosen the second best debater.

Bates Interscholastic Debating League

The Bates Interscholastic Debating League was a splendid success this college year with forty-two schools of preparatory rank participating. Thirteen of these schools won out in their local triangles and came to Bates for the semi-finals and finals. The three schools competing in the finals were:—Deering High School of Portland, Edward Little High School of Auburn, and Maine Central Institute of Pittsfield. The winner of the Debating Cup was Deering High School of Portland, which is to be heartily congratulated upon its victory. All the teams participating made a splendid showing and the results of careful preparation and training were evident. Most of the schools are planning to participate again next year. Under the new policy the cup is the permanent possession of the winning school, a new cup being given each year. Even a larger increase in Secondary schools participating in the League is expected next year.

History and Purpose

The Bates College Outing Club was founded during the winter of 1919-1920, and it is the oldest college organization of its kind in the State. It is modeled along the lines of the Dartmouth Outing Club in its purpose, which is to provide wholesome outdoor recreation for a large number of students. The large majority of the student body belong to the club and are therefore eligible to participate in its athletic events, take part in trips, and use the large supply of winter sport equipment.

The club has two principal events during the year. One of these is the winter carnival and the other is the spring trip to the mountains. The winter carnival usually comes soon after mid-year exams, but this year because of the scarlet fever epidemic, the carnival was held the first three days of March.

Bates was a pioneer in the carnival field, also, holding one in 1920, long before the present craze for carnivals reached Maine. Since 1920 a carnival has been held each year. The carnivals are backed to the limit by the student body, and entries for the various events of the three afternoons' athletic program are never lacking since the pointed competition between the four classes is very keen.

The Outing Club dance is held on the second night of the carnival. This is one of the premier social events of the winter, and is looked forward to with considerable anticipation by both men and women. Indeed the social aspect of the carnival is quite as important to the student body as is the athletic and sporting side. The very popular skating masquerade was altered this year because the rink was not usable and the evening was spent in a masquerade dance in Chase Hall. That evening the prizes were awarded for the masquerade as well as the ribbons and the Stetson Medals for high point winners.

Thus the Outing Club does a valuable piece of work in breaking up the monotony of the average winter of snow and study.

Third Annual Mt. Washington Hike

Hitting the Trail

Ten hikers from the Bates Outing Club started out May 29, 1922 for the top of Mt. Washington and returned two and a half days later, somewhat less fresh (!) but happy over the third successful conquest of that tough old "mile on end" in New Hampshire by a group of Bates hikers.

This hike was more ambitious than those of previous years, for not only was Mt. Washington itself included, but also the entire range of the Northern Peaks, — Clay, Jefferson, Adams, and Madison.

Memories of the hike are vivid and varied—those chocolate bars and raisins surely tasted good: Dr. Lawrance probably won't take a pair of patent leathers with him next time; best of all, Crystal Cascade brimming over with its spring freshet, the sight of the snow piled up at the head wall of Tuckerman's Ravine, and the hike over the range "on top of the world."

Those making the trip were Dr. W. A. Lawrance, Prof. B. E. Leete, President William Tarr, Carl E. Purinton '23, Kenneth Conner '25, Erwin Canham '25 L. E. Walton '25, Ralph Linton '25, Arthur Martin '25, and Karl Steady '25.

Camp Juliet

Out at No-Name Pond, located some distance off a back road leading from the little hamlet of Sabattus, the Bates Outing Club hired a camp for the winter months. They called it Camp Juliet and it was a comfortable place to spend a week-end "roughing it." During the enforced vacation, which followed the quarantine, several parties, made up mostly of those who found it advisable to remain in Lewiston, went out there for short periods of time and braved the cold weather and the attendant inconveniences for the sheer adventure and thrill of tasting life in the great out-doors.

One party in particular, reports a most enjoyable time spent at the camp during the week prior to the opening of school. Four in number, the boys set out stacked with provisions, and traversed most of the way on snowshoes. They had been told to follow a previous trail which branched off one of the back roads about a mile and a half from Sabattus, and of course, when they came to one which seemed to have been made by a previous snowshoe party, they followed it — only to realize after they had crossed many a field, that it was a blind trail.

Quarantine Days

The hikers had some idea of where the camp was situated and so kept plodding on. Finally, one of the boys formulated the bright idea of putting some of his geological information to a practical test. Reasoning from the lay of the land, that a depression must be in a certain direction and acting upon this observation, he left the road and made off thru the challenging woods. The others followed, and in less than five minutes they came upon another snowshoe trail and following this, they soon stepped out upon the frozen surface of the lake. Skirting the shore, they at last reached Camp Juliet while it was yet early evening.

The ski and snowshoe team is a new department of the Club. Mr. E. A. Woodward formerly of Dartmouth, organized the teams which have ably represented us at other carnivals, the teams being selected from his class in ski and snowshoe work.

The New Ski Jump

The material asset which is most outstanding is our new ski jump on Mt. David. The tower and take off are well placed and enable the men to make jumps of from 30 to 60 feet.

This new jump was constructed by the Outing Club and greatly aids the development of ski jumpers in the College. Our men took advantage of this new facility and have rapidly improved in form and distance. Indeed, many novices became enthused with the sport this year and give promise of good performances in the future.

Fourth Annual Carnival

The first day of the annual Outing Club Carnival was Thursday, March 1.

Undazzled by the dazzling sun, the Co-eds lined up at the starting point for the 100 yard snowshoe race, the first event of the day. Two heats were run in this race, the first three from each heat being picked for the final race. This event was finally won by Miss Margaret Hanscom '26; with Miss Florence Cook '25, 2nd; and Miss Margaret Lombard '26, 3rd.

Following this event came two 220 yard ski races for the men, the first for experienced skiers and the second for novices. The winners for these two races were: (experienced skiers)—won by Gerald Fletcher '25; 2nd, W. Gilpatric '24; 3rd, C. Gilpatric '24; (novices)—won by Chadbourne '25; 2nd, Baker '24; 3rd, Dyer '26.

The winners of the 220 yard snowshoe events for men were:—won by Chadbourne '25; 2nd, C. Gilpatric '24; 3rd, Libby '24; (novices)—won by W. Gilpatric '24; 2nd, Libby '24.

The woman's 100 yard ski race was won by Miss Jordan '25; Miss Ethel Crie '25, 2nd; Miss Nina Ulman '24 and Miss Margaret Lombard '26 tied for third place. with Miss Dorothy Hoyt '23, third.

Miss Bernice Jordan '25 was winner of the ski slide. Miss Crie '25 was second, with Miss Dorothy Hoyt '25, third.

Indeed, the most interesting events of the first day were the ski jumps. The first and second places of the open jump were captured by Lovell and Flynn, respectively—both of Jordan High. Baker of Bates '24 was third. The closed event was won by Baker '24. Matsunaga '26 was 2nd; with Archibald '25, 3rd. Holman Huntington '25 made the longest jump of both events but was unable to stay on his feet and was disqualified.

High point winners for the men were Chadbourne—19 and Miss Jordan—10. The sophomores scored the greatest number of points.

SECOND DAY

The second day of the Outing Club Carnival, March 2nd, proved to be even more exciting than the first. With the exhilaration of a clear, crisp afternoon, the events were run off in a series of spirited contests which thrilled the crowd of spectators as the contestants produced the best they had.

A baseball game on snowshoes brought many a roar of laughter midst a din of cheers as Descoteau's "Black Pigs" pounced on Kennelly's "Blind Bats" in a four inning frolic which scored two runs for the "Pigs." In keeping with the sportsmanship of the baseball game was the women's snowshoe relay race, in which "Terry" Ulman '24 led Miss Hanscom '26 only within a few yards from the tape, and the hair raising finish between Chadbourne and Tiffany in the snowshoe cross country race.

The Summary:

Relays: Men's snowshoe won by Juniors (W. Gilpatric, Moulton, Libby, C. Gilpatric). Ski won by Sophomores (Burns, Dorr, Archibald, Fletcher). Women's snowshoe tie between Freshmen and Juniors—Freshmen (Misses Hall, Chesley, Ames, Hanscom) Juniors (Misses Lamb, Stevens, Milliken, Ulman.)

Men's cross country ski, 1st, C. Gilpatric, 2nd, Dorr, 3rd, Baker. Men's cross country S. S., 1st, Chadbourne, 2nd Tiffany, 3rd, Huntington. Women's cross country S. S., 1st, Cooke, 2nd, Miss Hanscom, 3rd, V. Milliken. Snowshoe obstacle, 1st, Huntington, 2nd, Tiffany, 3rd, Chadbourne.

Baseball game won by "Black Pigs."

THIRD DAY

The third day began with the postponement of the skating events because the ice was soft. No activities were carried on that afternoon. The skating masquerade turned out to be a dancing masquerade at Chase Hall and at this time many assembled to celebrate the closing hours of carnival.

The ribbons for point winners, the masquerade prizes and the Stetson Medals for high point winners were presented at this time.

Intercollegiate Winter Sports

Winter sports in Maine received a big boost this year, when the four colleges organized the Maine Intercollegiate Skiing Association. Bates was active in calling the meeting, with the purpose of banding the four colleges of the state together for the good of winter sports.

Three carnivals were selected at which intercollegiate championships will be held. Events listed as intercollegiate events were snowshoe dashes, snowshoe and ski cross country races and ski relay races.

Those present at the meeting held at the Elmwood Hotel were: (Bates) Mr. E. A. Woodward, President William L. Tarr, Henry A. Rich; (Bowdoin) Karl R. Philbrick, Pere O. Bergenstrahle; (Colby) Roland Paine, George E. Tash; (Maine) Merle C. Niles.

Physical Training Groups

A new feature of outdoor work was begun this winter. The Physical Department organized hiking groups which covered the surrounding country on snowshoes. Four of these groups took a trip each week and were enthused with the plan which offers a sociable hike on snowshoes out of doors. This plan was backed by the Outing Club which provided the snowshoes for many and the groups were led by President Tarr.

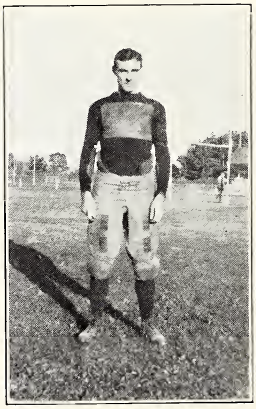
Bates, 7, Bowdoin, 3.

What a feeling of pride and glory in his Alma Mater is stirred up in every Bates man's heart by the memory of that never-to-be-forgotten game. Bowdoin, supremely confident of crushing Bates, found herself face to face with eleven men who went into that game with the sole idea of winning, gave all they had to win, and consequently outplayed Bowdoin in every Department of football. Was the season a success? You bet it was! We beat Bowdoin!

The beginning of the season saw a new coaching staff for football. Physical director Carl H. Smith left to take a position with Middlebury College and was succeeded by Oliver F. Cutts, Bates '96, Harvard, and an All-American tackle. Raymond A. Watkins, 1921 football coach, failed to return last fall, his place being taken by Carleton L. Wiggin, Bates '21, the most versatile athlete the college ever had. Bates followers felt certain that with such men as Cutts and Wiggin at the helm of football results would be produced and they were not disappointed.



"Old Reliable"
John Davis

The schedule for 1922 was an ambitious one. In the first game, the boys journeyed to New Haven, where they met with a tough proposition in Yale. As it was, however, Yale had no easy time in securing her 48 points and the score would have been very much reduced had she not been able to send in a fresh substitute every other minute. Fortunately, Bates emerged from her first battle with only minor injuries.

On November 30th, the team travelled by auto to Durham on a day when the temperature registered about 90 in the shade. On the first kickoff the Garnet eleven marched steadily down the field, Rutsky, Davis, and Fellows reeling off long gains, and a touchdown was made within five minutes of play. New Hampshire then replied with a touchdown in the same manner. About this stage in the game Bates received two injuries which hampered the men the rest of the season. Descoteau suffered a badly wrenched knee and Rutsky had a small bone broken in his ankle The two teams were quite evenly matched, Bates being held for downs on the state's 1 yard line while N. H. secured two more touchdowns before the game ended.

The following Saturday Bates lost a tough game to Tufts, a blocked kick in the opening period spelling defeat for the Garnet. Time and again victory seemed within easy grasp of either team, only to slip thru its fingers. Bates held for downs when the Brown and Blue had the ball within inches of the goal line and in the last period "Hap" Price gathered up the pigskin in mid-field and sprinted with a clear field ahead of him only to be pulled down from behind 12 yards away from the last chalk line. "Hatorn" Aspasian proved himself in this game to be a small but powerful guard, on one occasion bodily keeping three of the opposing team from going thru him.

The State Series

The state series opened October 14th with Bates opposing Colby on Garcelon Field. Eddie Casey predicted that Colby would beat Bates by an overwhelming score but it was another thing for Colby to go ahead and do it. Things went along without an advantage to either side in the first quarter but in the second the Bates line weakened and Colby made a touchdown. At the end of the half many fans were willing to concede Colby the game but Bates has always been known to play better the second half and this game was to be no exception. The third quarter found the Bates team showing a superior style of play. "Bill" Guiney was making over half the tackles. Then "Ev" Woodman was put into the game and in the last quarter his classy open field running brought the ball to the Colby 15 yard line. Here Kempton standing well back of the line of scrimmage, heaved a long pass far over to right into the arms of Davis who stepped over the line for a touchdown. Davis kicked the goal and the game ended with the score, 7 all.

The next game, with Maine, resulted in a 19-6 defeat altho as one paper stated: "Bates was never put back for loss without terrific effort against big odds." Credit must be given to Maine, she simply had the better team. Her powerful line, Small's brilliant open field running, and two 40 yard aerial heaves were responsible for Maine's three tallies. Bates' touchdown was the result of a long forward from Kempton to Davis after the ball had been brought to the 15 yard line from mid-field mainly by means of the air route. In the final quarter the Garnet barely missed scoring another touchdown when a long pass just grazed Guy Rowe's fingers as he raced over the goal line. Maine was obliged at all times to work for her victory as Bill Guiney's spirit never faltered and he continually urged his men to break up the opposing offense.

The victory over Bowdoin meant more to Bates followers than the rest of the season combined. After holding Harvard to 15 points, Bowdoin had no doubt as to her ability to defeat a team which was obliged to accept one touchdown to Maine's three the week before. But they had not reckoned on the determination of Capt. Guiney's men. Coach Wiggin's plea that if he could not be on a team that beat Bowdoin the most he could ask for was to be the coach of a team that beat Bowdoin was not in vain. Every Bates man went on the field resolved to give all he had to beat Bowdoin and the result was—an exhibition of perfect football. Bill Guiney directed his warriors with never failing energy and he tackled like a demon. Scotty was a stone wall to the Bowdoin backs and he broke up play after play. John Davis gathered the pigskin into his arms as tho there was no other place for it while his defense work was of the highest quality. Guy Rowe followed the ball like a hawk, pouncing upon it after every fumble and in the meanwhile let few plays get around his end. Doc Moulton chose his plays with unerring ability while his passes were unloaded with bullet-like accuracy. In fact every player on the team figured in the victory, their names will go down in the history of the College. Following a fumble on the kickoff a long pass from Moulton to Davis put the Garnet in a position to score. After several ineffectual tries at piercing the Black and White line, "Old Reliable" John Davis was given the ball, and with Price and Aspasian paving the way, plugged ahead the necessary 8 yards over the goal line. Bowdoin managed to annex 3 points on a field goal near the end of the 1st half but from then on she did not threaten. The final whistle blew, and the students, singing on the field picked up on their shoulders Bill Guiney and John Davis, who playing their last game on Garcelon Field, had given their all and sent Bowdoin back to Brunswick, a sadder but wiser crew.

The Winning Touchdown

The Touchdown That Beat Bowdoin!

Inspired by the brand of football they had shown against Bowdoin, the Bates "footballers" travelled to Amherst the next Saturday and proceeded to remove the Massachusetts Agricultural eleven from the list of undefeated football teams. Bates was in a position to score no less than five times but fumbling was costly on each occasion except in the beginning of the 4th period when John Davis took the ball over from the 1 yard line. Capt. Guiney and Davis were largely responsible for this victory while Scott in the line and Fellows in the backfield turned in some pretty plays.

On November 11th, Bates gave the Brown Bear a bad scare. In the first half the Garnet backs were unable to make a dent in the impregnable Brown line whereas the Brownies ran up a 21 point lead after successive marches down the field. Thinking that the game was sewed up Brown put in her second team the second half whereupon Bates resorted to the aerial game. A volley of perfect passes quickly resulted in a touchdown for the Garnet. The Brown coach became greatly worried and sent back his first string men in bunches, but not before another tally was secured by Bates. Brown tallied once more in the final quarter, the score ending 27-12.

In the final game of the season, Bates opposed the heavy Army eleven team. Altho not being able to score, the Garnet eleven played the Army subs to a standstill in the opening quarter causing the coaches to start the entire varsity in the second period. Army varsity did not roll over Bates with ease as the score 39-0 would seem to indicate. Once Bates held four downs on her 20 yard line while two of Army's touchdowns came as the result of fumbles and one because of an intercepted forward pass. The Garnet's remarkable showing against a much heavier eleven completed a very successful season.

Track Season 1921-1922

Last year's successful track season was ushered in by the defeat of the University of Vermont in a relay race held at the Boston Arena on February 4th, the occasion being the annual B. A. A. meet. Batten, R. Buker, Sanella, and Archibald were the four members of the victorious team, Archie copping the race by a margin of ten yards.

The Penn. relay carnival again added glory to the Garnet. Capt. Ray Buker, the greatest distance runner ever enrolled at Bates, repeated his wonderful exhibition of the year before by winning the International two mile race against the pick of the country. Not content with this victory, a relay team including Corey, Batten, Sanella, and Archibald captured first honors altho pitted against Rochester University, Hamilton, Hobart, Colby, and Boston University.

The dual meet with N. H. State was bitterly contested by both colleges. Bates' strength lay in the running events and N. H. State was correspondingly strong in the field events. So evenly divided were the honors that the winning of the discus throw with an 112 foot heave by Leroy Luce gave the meet to Bates by one point.

Altho the Maine state meet was generally conceded to the Garnet in advance several surprises pulled by Maine and Bowdoin upset the dope. Bates captured three firsts, Buker in the two mile, Pete Burrill in the low hurdles, and Luce in the discus. As a result of Landers stretching a tendon in the finale of the short dash, Bowdoin won both the 100 and 220. The 440 proved to be a heart-breaker, Maine and Colby placing 1st and 2nd with Archibald a close third. Sanella was obliged to admit defeat by two yards at the hands of the Bowdoin captain in the 880. The Maine leader surprised even his own followers when he won the mile run by a comfortable margin over Ben Sargent. Bates rooters, however, were not disappointed in Buker. Running a well-calculated race the sturdy Garnet leader clipped 10 seconds off the former two mile record and Cyke McGinley was near enough behind to also shatter the former record. Bowdoin's strength in the remaining events, taking the shot put, hammer throw, broad and high jumps, pole vault, and high hurdles, gave her sufficient points to win the meet, Bates placing second.

The New England Meet at Worcester resulted in Bates securing more points than any other Maine team. The Garnet took 1st and 3rd in the two mile, 1st in the discus, 2nd in the quarter, and 2nd in the mile.

The final meet in a most successful track season, for which an unlimited amount of credit is due Coach Jenkins, was the Intercollegiates at Cambridge. Here, Buker, Bates' only competitor in the finals, was barely nosed out at the tape by Higgins of Columbia in a gruelling two mile race. A photograph of the finish leaves much room for argument as to who actually won the event.

Track Season 1922-23

Bates again won its relay race at the B. A. A. meet in Boston, this year held on February 3rd, competing against Colby and Boston University. The race narrowed down early to a contest between Colby and Bates. Frank Sanella, taking the stick from Jake Landers passed over a comfortable lead to Simpson. However, Archie, running anchor, received a 15 yard handicap from Simpson. Gaining ground gradually, he was about to pass the Colby man on the home stretch when he was plainly driven against the boards in the eye of all the spectators. Colby was disqualified and the race given to Bates, who, it was evident, would have won it fairly anyway.

"Archie"
State Champ,
Quarter Miler

Winners, Class C — Penn Relay Carnival

Again a Bates Relay Team came thru! Moved up to Class C by virtue of its showing last year, M. Burrill, Corey, Landers, and Archibald, nothing daunted, showed their heels to Bucknell University, Brown University, Colgate College, Howard University, University of Montreal, and Wilberforce University in the classic Penn Relay Carnival. With a 15 yard disadvantage at the start, Archie pulled up on the Brown and Howard anchor men who could not stand the pace of the Bates flyer's sprint when near the worsted. Such an achievement brings untold glory to the Garnet.

The Bates track team bettered even its own predictions by disposing of N. H. State 80-54. The Garnet succeeded in taking all the points in the 440, mile and two mile, and placed in every other event. Jake Landers had no trouble in copping both the century and the furlong while "Pete" Burrill topped both hurdles in winning form. Archie won the 440 and the 880 easily. Ben Sargent contented himself with coaching Hodgkins, Holt and Dorr into 1st, 2nd, and 3rd places in the mile while Captain McGinley allowed Ward and Hurley to tie before him in the two mile. Dyer surprised his own followers by tying for first place in the pole vault. Kenney slung the "cookie" for a first place and Peterson, unable to lift his arm the day before, heaved the hammer for a second place. More experience with the javelin will benefit Bates as both Rutsky and Luce bettered the winning throw but stepped over the line. Other notable point winners were Corey who placed in the 440, 880, and broad jump and J. Simpson in the 440 and 220. N. H.'s high point winner was Davis who won the broad and high jumps and established a record for the latter of 5 feet 11 inches.

The State Meet at Orono bids fair to bring the pennant to Bates from its successes in track this year. Coach Jenkins has done wonders for the Garnet; Bates could not get along without him.

Baseball Season 1921-22

Last year's season with a total of five games won and nine lost does not look imposing but a brief review of the season will show that it was not one to be ashamed of.

The pitching staff included Captain Lee Spiller, "Hap" Price, "Silent" Martin, and "Peanut" Hamilton. Bob Partridge, ex-'24, was on the receiving end while the rest of the infield was made up of C. Jordan at first base, Cogan at second, Dimlich at short, and Daker at third. In the outer garden "Bill" Kennelly held down the center position with Rowe and Maynard Moulton on either side.

The annual exhibition game with Bowdoin was the first fray for the Garnet. Coach Smith used three pitches but Bowdoin, fresh from a Southern tour, finally emerged on the long end of a 6-1 score Following a practice game with the Lewiston Eagles the team journeyed to Cambridge where they met with stiff opposition. The final score sounded more like football than anything else. On May 10th the Garnet won a close game with N. H. State on Garcelon Field. Daker secured a niche in the hall of fame by rapping out a homer with two men on. Two days later Maine captured the first state series contest by a two run margin, the chief cause being "Hap" Price's inability to get his eye on the plate.

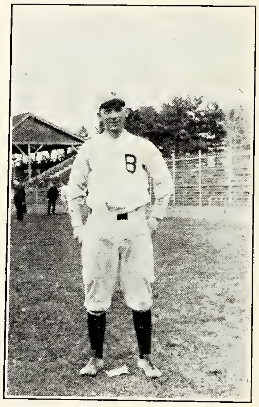
On the 16th of May the ball team left Lewiston for a four-game trip, the first being with Tufts. The Garnet swatters collected ten hits off the Tufts pitcher while Captain Spiller was allowing only four but each of the four was made to count and in the meantime not a Bates man crossed the plate. The next game with Mass. Aggies was won by the Garnet, Martin performing brilliantly in the pitcher's box. On May 19th, Peanut Hamilton, pitching great ball, lost a two-hit game which lasted ten innings to Conn. Aggies.

On their return from Massachusetts, the team again took N. H. State into camp, this time by a 7-6 score. The game was a see-saw affair, first one side and then the other having the advantage.

The remaining five games with the state college did not turn out so well for the Garnet. A second game with Maine was lost by a lone tally, altho Peanut allowed but a single hit. Colby and Bowdoin, the latter twice, took the next three games from the Garnet. However, Bates staged a come-back in the last game by winning from Colby 8-2.

Baseball Season 1922-23

Bates is back on the baseball map. Coach Carl Wiggin has developed a ball team, which, from its early showing, bids fair to be the State Champ. With "Silent" Martin, "Peanut" Hamilton, and "Hap" Price all hurling the sphere in rare form, Bill Kennelly should be able to look back upon a most successful season.



"Joe"

The annual exhibition game with Bowdoin had to be cancelled after two spells of bad weather prevented its being played. The first fray was with the Ramblers of Lewiston who won 5-4. Four Bates pitchers were used "Butch" Fellows being the only one who had difficulty in finding the plate.

On April 25th the Garnet ball tossers journeyed down to Cambridge to tackle John Harvard. "Hap" Price showed wonderful control, allowing but one hit, and that one to the redoubtable George Owen. Three errors by his team-mates, however, lost the game 3-0. Bates played N. H. State on the following day, losing by a 2-0 score. Martin's offerings were connected with safety six times while Bates was able to secure but one hit from the N. H. pitcher. However, the latter walked seven men against none for the Bates twirler.

In the first game of the state series the Garnet repeated its hockey triumph, winning from Maine by a 5-4 score with Joe Cogan as the star. Victory was by no means certain until the last of the ninth when the Maine second baseman juggled Moulton's grounder, allowing Davis to score the winning run. Altho Maine persistently tied the score, "Peanut" Hamilton never allowed the University "Bears" to get the lead and he held the advantage over Jowett all the way. Daker and Cogan wielded the willow in fine shape and the latter got a good hand when he nipped a hot grounder single handed on the other side of second base. Joe also pulled a pretty play when he scored from second after Peanut had been forced at the plate and Captain Kennelly tagged out at first.

A game with the Lewiston Eagles had to be cancelled as Omar Gauvin's birds failed to respond to his whistle. As the Mirror goes to press chances loom bright for the State Championship. At any rate Carl Wiggin's first year as a Bates Coach is an enviable one and he undoubtedly is here to stay.

Following the splendid example set by last year's team, the hockey team again won the Maine Intercollegiate Championship. The difficulty of winning this title this year was much greater than last year because of the entrance of the University of Maine team into the series and also the far better developed teams of Bowdoin and Colby.

Although handicapped by the continual snowstorms during the month of January nevertheless the team made the best of its opportunities for practice and led the state teams from the start.

The first game of the season was with Colby on the Bates rink and the Garnet team easily buried their opponents with a score of 5 to 0. The most noticeable feature of this game was the excellent team work of the Bates team compared with that of Colby.

The second game was with the St. Dominique team and was a red hot contest. The St. Dominique team finally succeeded in scoring one goal which was the only point made by either team. Score 1 to 0.

Bowdoin then bowed in defeat to the Bates team. The game was very much one-sided as the score of 12 to 1 would indicate. The work of Captain Roberts and Cogan was especially noteworthy in this game.

The Augusta Hockey Club and the Portland K. of C. teams were the next two victims of the Garnet aggregation. The scores of these two games were the same, 11 to 3 and although they were good contests the superiority of the Bates team was very evident. The Portland game was played without the services of "Dick" Stanley who was injured at Augusta.

By this time the team was in fine shape for the games to be played at West Point and Princeton which came as a mid-season trip. In winning from West Point by the score of 2 to 1, Bates achieved one of her greatest hockey triumphs. The game was played under the worst of conditions in regard to both lighting and ice conditions. However, the better team work of the Garnet stood out once more. At Princeton, although the Garnet team was defeated by a large score, the men gained a great deal of real hockey knowledge which they used later to good advantage. Princeton was represented by one of the best college hockey teams in this country and this team rolled up a score of 9 to 0 against the Bates aggregation. It was during this game Joe Cogan severely sprained his ankle which prevented him from actively participating until the latter part of the season.

The season was split in two at this point by the three weeks quarantine for scarlet fever which caused the cancellation or postponement of the games scheduled for this period.

The next appearance of the Garnet team was at the exhibition game with the University of Maine team at the Augusta Carnival. The team was badly crippled because of the lack of practice and also because of the loss of the services of Cogan and Leonardi. The game was lost by the close score of 2 to 1 and Maine thus won the cup which was awarded to the winner of that game.

At the Auburn Carnival the Bates team played two games. The first was with Bowdoin on the opening night of the Carnival and was a regular series game. Although the play of the Bates team was much better than at Augusta Carnival game, it had not reached its previous excellence. However, the Garnet team won by a score of 3 to 1. This game was the first one that Cogan had participated in since his injury at Princeton. The second game at the Carnival was with the strong Boston University aggregation and proved disastrous to the Bates team which lost by a score of 6 to 0.

The final games of the season came on a two game trip to Maine and Colby. It was the winning of these games that clinched the State Championship for Bates. The University of Maine game was played on a small rink and was a red hot struggle both in the matter of hockey and the number of fouls. At the end of the regular periods the score stood tie 4 to 4. Two five minute overtime periods were agreed upon and during the second period Joe Cogan succeeded in caging the winning goal. The score of 5 to 4 would indicate that the game was no one-sided affair. Cogan and Roberts both starred in this game.

The Colby game was one of the cleanest and best exhibitions of hockey seen for a long time. From the very start the team work of the Garnet men easily outshone that of Colby and the final score of 6 to 1 shows very well the comparison of the two teams.

An attempt was made to play a second game with Maine but the warm weather ruined the ice surface so that the game had to be cancelled.

Much credit should go to Coach Wiggin who thru his hard work and perseverance has been able to produce a championship team as a product of his first season's coaching at Bates.

Capt. Ray Batten's call for cross-country candidates soon after college opened brought out a formidable-looking squad of some twenty-five men. From then on every afternoon saw Coach Jenkins whipping his men into shape in preparation for the state meet. Batten, McGinley, Sargent, and Holt were showing rare form and were expected to bring in the lowest points for the Garnet.

The state intercollegiate cross-country meet was held this year in Lewiston on November 3rd. The weather conditions were perfect. At the start of the pistol the 28 harriers left Garcelon Field at a stiff pace. Coming up Central Avenue, the Garnet runners, well behind, took the lead and maintained it to the foot of Pole Hill. Here Hillman of Maine took the lead to be passed at the top of the hill by Cyke McGinley, the pack meanwhile lengthening out behind. When the leaders passed Winsor Mineral Springs, Cyke was found to be still in the lead, altho apparently running hard. Raymond of Maine, loping along easily, held second place, Hillman having dropped back. At this stage of the race, S. E. Wilson of Bates, well up among the first five, was seized with cramps and fell heavily. He struggled to his feet and attempted to carry on but fell again and was obliged to drop out. Near the Fair Grounds Sargent was also taken with cramps and was unable to finish. Coming into Garcelon Field Raymond began to pull up slowly on the man ahead of him but Cyke gritted his teeth and held doggedly to the course beating Raymond to the tape by nearly 50 yards. Dorr was nosed out of 8th place by inches and was followed by Holt. Hurley came in 15th with Batten right behind him but Maine had taken enough low points to make 38. Bowdoin, by taking 5th and 6th places, captured second honors with 48 while the Garnet's score totaled 51 with Colby a poor fourth.

"Cyke" Winning State Meet

The New England hill and dale title was retained by University of Maine when they won the annual run on November 18 with the low score of 49 points. The Bates harriers were a close second with 53 while M. I. T., the favorites, were out-classed, taking third with 110. Hendrie, the track captain, took the lead at the start of the grind and held it all thru the race, winning by 200 yards. Cyke McGinley, running second, was overcome by dizziness and his slowing up allowed McKeeman of Maine to pass him a few feet from the tape. Bates showed great balance, taking 3rd, 9th, 11th, 13th, and 17th places, but lacked enough in the unit column to win.

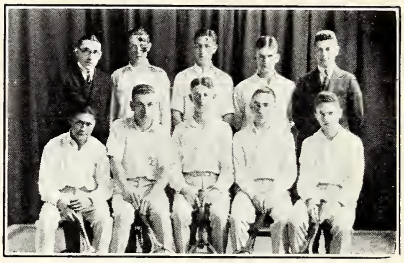
Tennis Season 1921-22

Last year's tennis season was not a howling success so far as wins and losses go but some of the matches were hard fought and interesting to both players and spectators. Captain Roberts, Dick Stanley, Carl Purinton, and Ireland, were the first four ranking players with Fairbanks as the fifth man. Arthur Purinton, Y. M. secretary, assisted in developing the team and gave much valuable advice to the men.



A dual with Colby at Lewiston ended with 4 points to the Blue's credit against two for the Garnet. Ireland and Stanley were responsible for the two. The next fray was with the Augusta Country Club, the matches being played in the capitol city. Out of seven matches, Bates managed to annex one, Captain Roberts winning his singles, altho he and Stanley were barely nosed out in their doubles match by two old timers of Augusta. At the state meet which was held at Waterville last year, Bates did not shine. Colby upset the dope by taking both the singles and doubles from Bowdoin. The N. E. Intercollegiates at Boston was easy meat for Dartmouth. Bates was eliminated in the first round; Roberts by B. U., Stanley by M. I. T. and the doubles team by Bowdoin. A journey to Brunswick a week later gave the Bowdoin boys a 5-0 win after each match was hotly contested. The season was concluded by a dual with Wesleyan at home on Memorial Day, the visitors making a cleanup. Captain Roberts won the first set of his singles match but his opponent's steadiness spelled defeat in the other two.

Tennis Season 1922-23

The opening match of the season was turned from an expected victory to a decisive defeat when the Bowdoin racquet wielders captured all six points. Stanley and Fairbanks suceeded in winning the first set in their singles matches but were unable to stand the pace. The Garnet players were all in poor form and plainly showed the lack of practice. The new gym will be an invaluable aid in enabling tennis men to hit their stride the first of the season. With a week's hard practice and more coaching, the team should be able to carry thru the rest of the season with a creditable record.

Athletics have always held a dominant position in the life of Bates women. The spirit and enthusiasm shown in all inter-class contests seems to have grown from year to year, and now the field of athletics is holding a more important place than ever before.

The regulation of all the women's athletics is under the direction of the Athletic Board, composed of the President, Vice President, Secretary, and two advisers, Dean Niles and Miss Davies, together with the managers of the various sports, and a representative from each class.

A committee was appointed by the board to revise the training rules for the different sports. The enforcement of these rules leads not only to the physical development of the participants in every sport, but also advancement of class spirit, loyalty and honor.

Each girl receives a reward for total abstinence from coffee, tea, candy, and home-made dainties. The girl who makes a first team in a sport is awarded a whole stripe, and if she makes second team, a half stripe. After having won three whole stripes, she is granted the privilege of wearing her Bates sweater. When she has won five stripes, she is awarded her numerals, and when ten, her "B." An individual cup is given to the girl who wins twenty-two stripes.

A beautiful silver cup was presented to the Athletic Association by the class of 1921. The class having the highest number of points is awarded this cup which is to be held for one year. The class becomes the owner of the cup by holding it for two consecutive years.

Helen Hoyt, president of the Association, has distinguished herself by winning the highest number of stripes in athletics during her four years. She is one of the few who have been the possessor of the cup which goes to the girl winning twenty-two stripes.

"B" Girls

The present Athletic Board voted to award regulation white sweaters with a garnet 'B' to all girls who had won ten stripes. Fifteen sweaters were awarded by the president of the Association, Dorothy Lamb, eight of which were given to seniors, and seven of which were given to juniors.

Women's Gymnastic Meet

The Annual Gymnasium Meet was held April 3, 1923. The program, one of the best ever witnessed by the faculty and students, was as follows:

1.	Gymnastic Drill	Sophomores
2.	Silver Star Polka	Juniors
3.	Gymnastic Drill	Freshmen
4.	White Rose Mazurka	Sophomores
	Pierre and Jeannette

5.	Dumb Bell Drill
6.	Scardas
	Ritka
	Reap the Flax	Freshmen
7.	Apparatus Work	Sophomores
		Juniors
		Freshmen
8.	Inter-class Basket Ball Relay Race
9.	Awarding of Sweaters
10.	Report of Judges

It is needless to say that each class demonstrated remarkable ability in the drills and dances. Individuals from the various classes were awarded whole stripes and half stripes for their superior grade of work. The custom is to have the judges make a decision as to which class has done the best work. This year the class of '25 won the unanimous decision.

As the gym meet ends the athletic year, the points of the different classes are added, and the class holding the highest number of points is awarded a large silver cup to be held for one year, and after holding it for two successive years, the class becomes the owner of it. The juniors were the highest point winners for this year.

Eight girls from each class were chosen to participate in the inter-class basketball relay race, which furnished amusement for the audience. Next time, Bob, we'll lower the basket three inches so the ball will slip in more easily. Victory was gained by the freshmen who proved to be the star shooters of the race.

Previous to the decision of the judges, songs and cheers were given by each of the classes. The party closed with the singing of the Bates Alma Mater.

First Team Hockey — 1923

Hockey

The week after college opened, girls of the various classes were seen out on the athletic field at any hour during the day. They were getting ready to play off the inter-class hockey games which mark the beginning of the athletic program for the year.

After several weeks of practicing, the different teams were chosen under the supervision of the hockey manager, Mary Nichols '24.

Juniors Defeat Freshmen

The first game was played off between the juniors and freshmen. Captain Powers with her select ten came upon the field ready to meet Captain Waddell and her plucky supporters. In spite of the determination to win "fight" which the freshmen displayed, the juniors carried off the victory with a score of 5 to 0.

First Team Champs — 1924

Sophomores Versus Seniors

The second day two equally matched teams met to determine their fate under the leadership of Captains Hoyt and Cook. Though the seniors fought the game through to the finish with their usual "Old Bates Spirit" and "pep," the victory of the sophomores was due to their remarkable team work, resulting in the score 3 to 2.

Championship Game

As a result of the two previous games, the duty now rested upon the juniors and sophomores to prove which was the better. This game aroused more enthusiasm on the part of the cheering sections than either of the other two games did. Hurrah for '24! Alas for '25! Score 3 to 2.

Senior Hikers

Hiking

As an addition to the fall sports, hiking was introduced three years ago, and has proved to be as successful as the other forms of athletics. The custom has been to award a girl one whole stripe for completing thirty hour hikes including three long hikes; one to Greene, the others to Sabattus and Taylor Pond. She receives a half stripe for having completed twenty-five hour hikes and two long hikes to Greene and Sabattus. Due to the great interest shown in this line of work, hiking will become one of the major activities here at Bates.

On some of the hikes, work was combined with pleasure, as for instance, when "Simmy" and "Zip" waded in the shoals of Lake Sabattus, capturing poor, innocent leeches from their natural home.

First Team Champs — 1924

Volley Ball

The weather-man decided that he no longer wished us to continue our out-door athletics, so he caused the snow-flakes to descend on the athletic field. With the coming of snow, we were obliged to turn our attention to indoor sports. The volley ball games were played off without strenuous practicing or much comment. The preliminary games between the junior and freshmen teams and the senior and sophomore teams resulted in a championship game between the seniors and juniors. The latter, having demonstrated their athletic ability, again walked off with the championship. This fact must not be overlooked that the seniors had a second team! Will you ever forget the team work of "Dot" Wheet and Ruth Leader, to say nothing of "Smalley" in their serves and returns. If one desired to live just five more minutes it was necessary to step lively and let the ball take its course. Three cheers for "Team"!

First Team, Volley Ball — 1923

Second Team, Volley Ball — 1923

Basketball

The most important sport and the one which nearly every girl goes out for is basketball. The usual interest has been shown this year, and practices began shortly after the Christmas holidays. Everything seemed to be running along smoothly and each class was developing splendid teams until the "bugs" inhabited Parker Hall, thus placing the students under quarantine. However, during the week of quarantine a very exciting game took place between the "Scarlets" under Captain Hoyt and the "Fevers" under Captain Monteith. In this way interest was still kept up and a sufficient number of practices were obtained so that the games could proceed as formerly planned.

First Team Champs — 1923

Juniors 11 Freshmen 6

In the first game the juniors defeated the freshmen by a score of 11-6. The score got to the close point of 7-6 at one time, but Vivian Milliken, right forward on the junior team, came to the rescue and made two more baskets. In the second game, the seniors defeated the sophomores by a score of 22-12. Will you ever forget "Mil" gritting her teeth and flourishing her arms in the air much to her opponent's discomfort? Never mind, "Mil," you did well!

Seniors 24 Juniors 18

The juniors and seniors, both having the desire to capture the championship, made this game the most thrilling of all. The teams were well matched and both played hard to the finish. The first period ended with a tie 8-8, but through the remarkable individual playing of "Zip" and the excellent team work as a whole, the score totaled up for the seniors 24-18.

Second Teams

Mention must be made of the fine playing done by the second teams. The junior and sophomore teams lived up to their class reputation, but were unable to overcome Alberta's height and Marion's quickness.

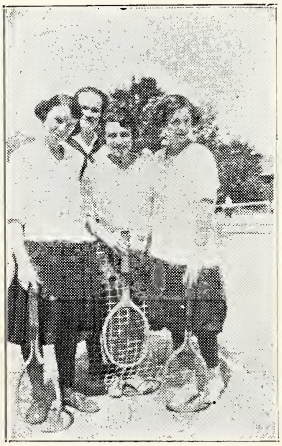
The usual reward for faithful practice and training was granted in the form of the annual banquet held in Fiske Dining Hall.

Track

Track deserves mention in that 1923 won the meet last spring. Mabel Plummer, the captain of the 1923 Track Team for two consecutive years, carried off the honors in the running and jumping events last spring. Al Laing showed her ability in winning the standing broad jump. Zip Hoyt, the third member of the 1923 track team, also did some fine work in jumping.

Tennis

The tennis courts attract everyone from amateurs, such as Marge, to experts like Nellie. Last year 1923 won the singles, renown due to Nellie; but 1924 proved themselves capable of winning the doubles. No less enthusiasm is demonstrated by the co-ed side of the campus in this sport than in any other.



Soccer

During our freshman year soccer was substituted for baseball. This sport called forth less amusement on the part of the spectators than the former sport had, for the reason that "fishing" for the ball was forbidden. The fact is that this sport has been worked out to a scientific degree of efficiency as was shown in the team work of 1923 when, in their sophomore year, they came through as champions. The championship last year was tied between 1923 and 1924. Because of the rainy weather this tie was not played off, and the points were divided between the two classes. If the bad weather does not descend upon us too quickly, the prospects for developing four speedy class teams are very good.

TO ED AND JIM

(by most any co-ed)

I wandered lonely as a cloud,
A Freshman, green and tender,
At length along came gallant Jim,
My friend and strong defender.

No dumb-bell he, he knew the ropes—
His martial tread resounded
From depths of Rand, my fondest hopes
For him were quite well founded!

Jim was athletic, out for track
And co-ed tennis in the spring—
He made me love a baseball bat,
Field hockey, dancing, everything!

My Junior year, my handsome Ed
Claimed most of my attention;
For two long years thots filled my head
Of one I need not mention.

For hours in "lib" he kept me long,
Spell-bound, thrilled, with his line
I'd sit there, eyes with wonder wide,
I'd never think of time!

He trailed me round the campus
He rushed me every day!
He made Carnegie heavenly!
Dewey to him was play!

He got me what I wanted—
That dread certificate—
For Ed counts us three hours,
And Gym we have to take.

Microbes en Masse

The mass meeting in the open had assembled — all the Microbes of the dormitory were scattered here and there through the grove of bristles on the old military hairbrush. Some of the younger and more active "Mikes" had climbed into the horny, broken-over branches to give lounging space to the older and lazier "Crobes." Cheer leader Fever, in scarlet cap, ascended the rostra of toilet water, and cleared his throat; his every movement was greeted with heartrending and eager applause. At length, he proclaimed through his great megaphone in sonorous tones, "Up with the old PEP, fellows." Up the fellows got, and, in sharp staccato followed the red-faced Fever in a cheer:

S-C-A-R—SCAR
L-E-T—LET SCARLET FEVERRRRRRR!!!!!

Captain Scarlet, having ascended the effervescent platform, began abruptly without introduction. "We have a great and noble fight ahead of us, my dear comrades," he said.—"Up with the old fight—let the despicable name of DUMONT spur you on. Bah!!! Dumont!!! Down with Dumont!!! Hep-hep!!!—altogether, now—DOWN WITH DUMONT!!!!!"

(in unison)

DOWN WITH DUMONT!!!!!

DOWN WITH DUMONT AND HOORAY FOR CAPTAIN SCARLET!!!!!!

(in unison)

GO GET 'EM!!!!!!

Alas! the assembly was hushed—something snapped—the gathering ceased to be an assembly at all. It was now as an audience to a grand and eloquent discourse.

"Uuuhhhhhh! this is a helluva mess, I should say," came a voice from the shadows of beyond.

And the echo sounded back, "A helluva mess, but how d'ye spell QUARANTINE—what's it cost to send a telegram to Boston?"

"Aw let's wait until after 8.30 and telephone for some grub."

"Grub!!!!! We'll be with the grubs soon enough, you mucker!"

Some weeks passed. Things were not as they seemed. The old "Crobes" had fought a good fight, but there had been no real victory. It was simply a fight, and they had become inert and lifeless with the monotony of their madness. However, the little "Mikes" back on the old brush became restless,—they were tired of playing with Small-Pox, the kid they had invited in while the old "Crobes" were out fighting.

"Let's get going," they said to Pox one day. "You're small, kid, but say, boy, you've got the kick when you do get started."

Small-Pox was very easily flattered, and before anybody could stop him, he was on his quest for victims: ahead and all about him sounded the battle-cry of "VACCINATION." The little "Mikes" yelled it at the top of their lungs just for spite.

Captain Scarlet's "ego" then got the best of him. "I'll be darned if I'll let that little sucker put it over on me," he thought, and accordingly summoned his recruits. Out went all the microbes at his command. There ensued a slight skirmish, but they soon lost heart, and beat a hasty retreat. Small-Pox came tearing home behind them with his arm in a sling.

"AGGIE SAYS it's no use trying to make Mr. Bates close his shoobang before June," he whimpered.

Anti Climax: Cheese on Crackers

"7.30; Heaven help us!
Where's my clothes? I'm awful fussed!
If we're late, the prof'll scalp us—
'Nuff to make an angel cuss!

"Say, tell me what was Mendel's theory?
The yellow corn and white are crossed—
Speed—hurry with your "info," dearie,
There's the bell! Oh, Gosh, I'm lost!

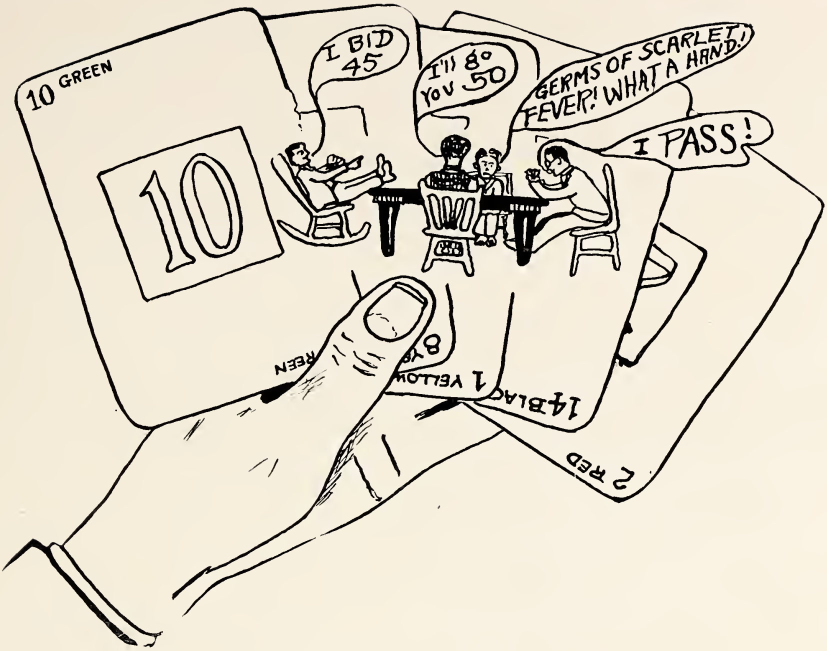
"Written? Who'd have ever guessed it?
Here I'll sling a wicked line,
How'd yuh hit it? Think you passed it?
Knocked me cold, say, ain't he fine?

"Leave you here, I'm cutting chapel,
Gotta go 'n comb my hair,
Take my books? Oh, there's a darling,
Bring your mail, hon, if it's there.

"There I've made a perfect monkey.
Next class, surely, I'll get by,
Luck like mine can never last long,
'Nother written? Let me die!
(act of fainting)

"Starved to death and one more hour,
Gee! I'm going to lose my mind—
'Translate the first page, please, Miss—'
'Why, er—' The bell! Oh, Fate is kind!

"I seize my books, and exit
To Rand I press my way,
Well, this, thanks be, is just the end
Of a perfect helluva day!"



Moans from the Monastery

Scene — Interior of Cell 4, Monastery.

"Rob" — "Brethren, the time has come for us to gather around the sacred table. Who desirest to shuffle the consecrated pasteboards?"

"Phil" — "I will join thee in thy holy rook playing. But seest thou to it that no playing cards, such as the unholy ones use, enter into this unpolluted place."

Burdon — "I will summon Friar Leavitt." (Goes out and returns with brother monk. The four sit down, and begin a game of rook).

Leavitt (after a few moments) — "I wish that the chief provider, Harry Rowe, wouldst serve the crispy corn flakes instead of Post Toasties for breakfast."

Burdon (laughing) — "About as much distinction there, good brother, as there is between rook and whist——Why not play real cards? Sombody said "Call a spade a spade," yet we persist in calling the ace of spades 14 black." (Gifford enters, interrupting conversation).

Gifford — "My good brothers! Knowing the great mental strain which thou art at present laboring under, I have brought thee some medical cigarettes, which will most certainly quiet thy nerves, shredded as they are by this wild and exciting game. Willst thou have one?" (Each takes one. All, holding cigarette with whole hand, have some difficulty in lighting up. Finally, all four players and Gifford are puffing contentedly, when in walk Hathaway and Carroll.)

Hathaway — "Ha! ha! I have caught thee. With my bayonet I will transfix thee to yonder wooden pillar." (Makes quick thrust. Phil retreats with a frightened cry. Attention of all suddenly attracted by Carroll's loud laughter.)

Carroll — "Brethren, ye are of a goodly sort, after all. But why not decorate the mahogany with a little cash? I have a few poker chips in my cell which I will gladly loan you."

"Phil" — Is a poker chip anything like a potato chip?"

"Rob" — "Thou hast desecrated this sacred place with thy unholy presence and polluted words. Get thee hence. I command it upon my authority as chief monk of Roger William's monastery. (Hathaway and Carroll leave, abashed. The rook game goes on, as Gifford sits in the corner, reading a gigantic biblical commentary.)

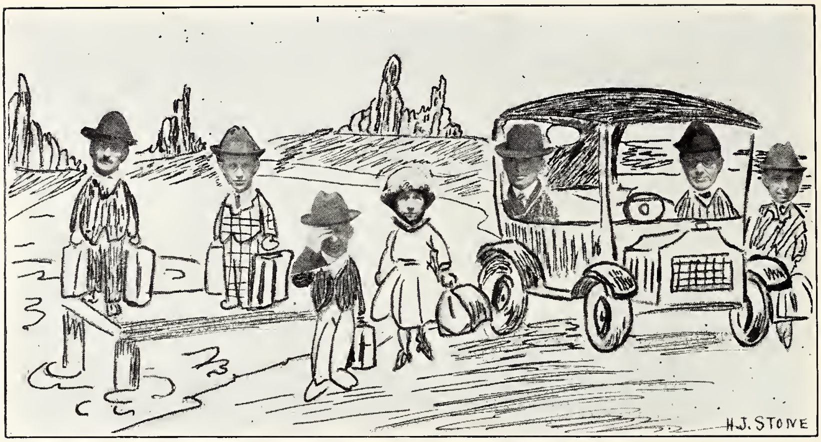
A One Act Farce Featuring Members of Bates College Faculty

SCENE I



Boat landing at Pleasant Pond, Maine. Professors Knapp, Robinson, Pomeroy, Britan, Chase, Gould, Baird, McDonald, Harms, Brown, Doane, and President Gray alight from jitneys with a profusion of excess baggage.

SAMMY: Well, folks, here we are. There's Freddie's motor boat and the old boy himself in shirt sleeves and straw sun hat. We're in for a regular time.

Party gathers upon wharf and one by one deposit themselves and luggage in the various boats midst enthusiastic greetings.

POM (seated next to Freddie): Now this is something like. It's great to get away from all cares like this. That senior prom nearly finished me. The dance situation is getting more and more serious. I was obliged to speak to twelve couples personally for improper conduct on the floor and there was one other doing a lot of dipping and shimmying, but as he was a faculty member I couldn't say anything. I think we'll have to ask your assistance at the next dance, Fred. The situation is getting beyond my control.

FREDDIE: You know where I stand. I'm weady anytime to do all in my power to uphold the ideals of Bates.

POM: You're efforts will certainly be appreciated. But let's forget our sordid cares. I'm glad the women folks came a day early and got the pantry well stocked. I'll be ready to eat any time.

FREDDIE: We're all weady for a gweat time. I'm glad I own the cottage and came early to open up. I've had a delightful time with ladies. Robert, your wife is a wizard in the cooking line.

MAC: I'll say she is. Boy, how my mouth waters when I think of that cream toast. We'll load up heavily on the fish this week end, eh, George?

GOOSIE: Yaws, indeed. I'm very fond of all kinds of fish. Ella says that's what makes me so brainy.

DOC BRITAN: Charming scenery yer have around here. Wal, guess they're goin to pass us (as launch containing remainder of party chugs by). Er, 'bout a fifteen minute run across the pond, Fred?

FREDDIE: Yes, sometimes we make it in ten. We can't go very fast with this load. We're most there.

PROF. ROB: That must be your cottage, Fred. I see a crowd of ladies on the veranda. (Applies opera glasses). There's Mabel coming down the steps. Yes, and there's Blanche too. Begins to look like home.

Freddie puts the motor in full speed and the two boats glide into the docks side by side while entire delegation of faculty ladies rushes from the cottage to welcome the arrivals. Profuse greetings follow.

MRS. ROBERTS: Well, well, this does seem good. Isn't the air wonderful? Do you know they say we are hundreds of feet above sea level here. Why, I feel like a new person already. I was just telling Mabel I wished Eddie could be here. It would do him a world of good to breathe this air.

FREDDIE: Yes, it would be fine, but he'll get the color back into his cheeks up at Bwyant's Pond.

MRS. ROBERTS: Oh, yes, the atmosphere agrees with him perfectly there. Well, dinner's waiting. We thot we'd have it ready even if it was early. We knew you men would be starved. Mr. Doane, do let me carry your music case. You look overburdened.

Entire party disappears within cottage.

Scene II — Dining Room

President Gray pronounces the blessing and the genial company "sets to."

PREXY: This little jaunt will somewhat delay my Chicago trip, but, er, I feel sure it is worth it.

LALA: Yes, I always find it so. I think right after Commencement especially one needs a bit of recuperation. I am charmed with this place. The esthetic setting and colorings all about give one a sense of peace which is very soothing to tired nerves.

GOOSIE: Speaking of settings. I could almost imagine myself now at the feast of Bacchus. I dare say this lemonade would seem a bit tame to the people of that age.

RAILROAD: In the good old days folks didn't half appreciate their blessings.

BIRDIE: Why limit it to the people of that age? I raise the question are not the majority of people to-day as susceptible to beverages with alcoholic flavoring as in the Golden Age of Greece?

J. MURRAY: That's a very good point, Professor. Judging from the annals of Parker Hall the average college man's point of view seems to support your position.

GOOSIE: Of course, we faculty members are not very well fitted to speak from experience, but I confess that there are times when I wish myself living back in those past centuries.

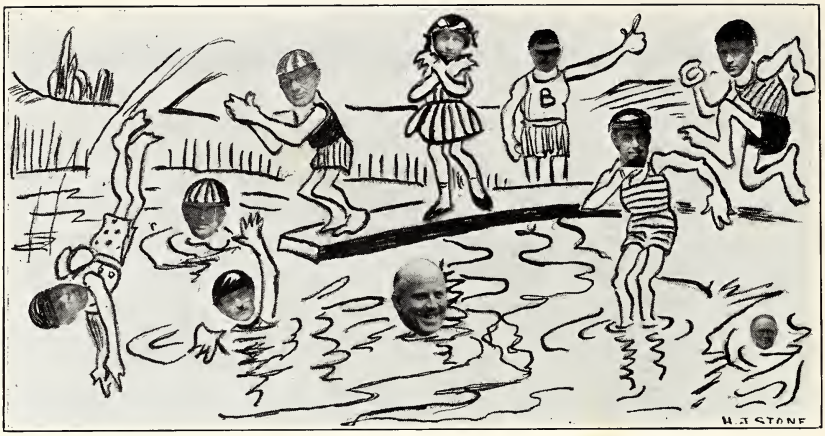
MRS. GOOSIE: Now, now, George, don't give yourself away.

Much laughter follows.

MR. DOANE: Everybody seems to be finished. What say if we have a little music.

The suggestion is greeted by approval and the curtain falls on the second scene amidst weird and unearthly sounds.

SCENE III



The next morning on the rocky beach. Entire party is attired in swimming togs. Professor R. R. N., the only expert in the crowd, has offered his services as swimming instructor.

RAILROAD: First we'll have a few setting-up exercises. We will practice the fundamental movements first in shallow water where there will be no danger. I will demonstrate once. (Goes thru movements). Are you all ready? One, two, three, go. (Violent splashing follows). Enough for that. Now we will go out a little farther. I want you all to get ahold of this and the only way to do it is to try yourselves out. I'll keep an eye on you individually. Now some of you have had some background and you ought to pick it up quickly.

LaLa, who has a background, glides along.

RAILROAD (observing his aesthetic curves): You have the right idea. Your form is perfect. It's speed now you must work for.

RAILROAD to Goosie, who stands shivering, knee deep in water: Let me see you do the breast stroke. That's an easy one.

GOOSIE (makes one brave attempt but fails to keep on the surface — comes up gasping): I've often wondered what sensation a drowning man enjoys.

RAILROAD: Run for your waterwings. You'll have to stiffen up a bit. All you lack is self confidence.

MRS. GOOSIE: Don't you think you've been in long enough to-day, George. You know you don't want to get cramps.

DOC. BRITAN: I'm goin to try swimming under water.

MRS. BRITAN: Oh, Hal, do use a little reason. You aren't skilled enough yet.

DOC: Wal, now, er, d'y spose a fish stops to reason every time he takes a turn? No, I don't think he does. (Disappears under water and remains for the fraction of half a second).

RAILROAD: Take a deep breath before you go under. I believe I mentioned that point once before to-day.

MAC: (watching Railroad demonstrate the Australian crawl and the Hawaiian dive) Pretty slick, what? That dive came like a bolt out of the blue. You can sum that feller up in two words. As the man in the street would say—"some boy."

MRS. ROBERTS: It's wonderful isn't it? I feel as tho I'd accomplished a lot to-day. Eddie said once I got the overhand I would be ready for anything.

PROF ROB: I race you and Miss Eaton to that rock.

MRS. ROBERTS AND MISS EATON simultaneously: It's a go.

The race starts. All watch with bated breath while Mrs. Roberts comes in ahead and Mabel and Grosvenor pull in neck to neck.

PREXY (who has been practicing fancy strokes during this time): Er, what was it you said Professor about the position of the arms while floating? I took a few lessons while at the University of Chicago, but, er, I didn't pick it up very readily.

RAILROAD: I said by the side. If inclined to sink, paddle gently with a backward motion.

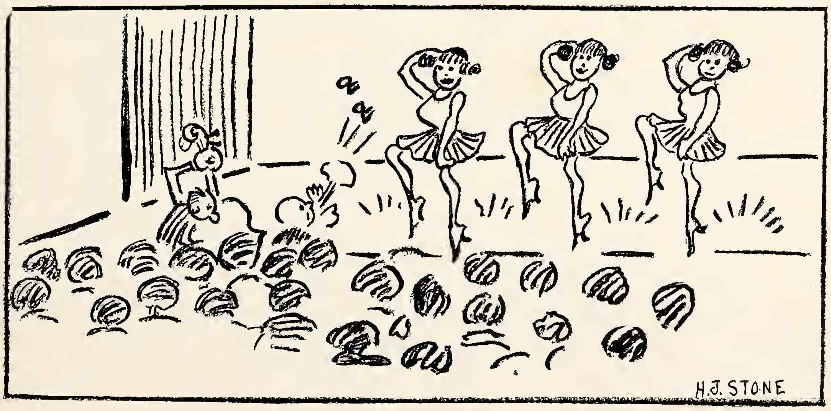
PREXY: I see, I see. (Proceeds to execute the stunt—manages beautifully for several minutes then collides with Goosie's waterwings and loses his equilibrium). Er, I was not counting upon your close, er, proximity, George. A floating man is not master of all he, er, surveys.

FREDDIE: You feel that you could float a million better than 200 avoirdupois don't you, Pwesident Gway?

RAILROAD (rubbing hands vigorously): You're getting ahold of this splendidly. Now next time be sure and review what you have learned to-day before starting anything new. I'd like to speak with Professor Chase a moment. Excused.

Swimmers disappear within cottage while Railroad hands out extra pointers to Goosie free of charge. Curtain falls on Scene III.

SCENE IV



The same evening in the pavilion at Pleasant Pond. A troupe of vaudeville artists from Caratunk are giving an evening performance. Faculty are seated in conspicuous seats in the glare of the footlights, their feet tapping vigorously to the orchestral strains of Toot, Toot, Tootsie. The curtain rises, gradually revealing dimpled knees, spangled tights, coy lips and frizzled heads. Freddie's eyes bulge; Prexy folds his hands complacently over his stomach; Birdie leans forward in his seat showing alert interest; LaLa closes his eyes and sighs for good old Paree. The chorus starts singing Toot, Toot, Tootsie, at the same time executing intricate and audacious steps.

MRS. ROBERTS: Do you know I believe this is the very company that created such a sensation in Music Hall a year ago.

PROF. ROB (scanning make-up closely): You don't say! One of those brunettes has a misplaced eyebrow.

MAC: I never thot I'd meet in with such a crowd. Some exhibition!

PREXY (turning pale as the leading lady throws him a kiss across the footlights): Er, I think, er, Doctor, er, we have made a mistake here. Er, I don't know how you others regard this, er, but, er, it seems to me an exceedingly vile and low down performance, er, I might say degrading and, er, personally, I think it our duty as members of the Bates College faculty to leave the building in a body.

GOOSIE: Excellent, excellent, Dr. Gray. I was hoping you would suggest that. I am sure you have expressed the sentiments of all of us.

DR. BRITAN: We ought surely to show folks it isn't our habit to frequent such places.

RAILROAD: We don't want the trustees to get ahold of this.

BIRDIE (after slyly winking at peroxide blonde, enjoying himself immensely, but always ready to save his face): Then the conclusion is that we depart?

J. MURRAY: I think that's the best way out. Group influence is a big factor in society.

MAC: I'm ready to line up with you.

GOOSIE: Let us all rise together.

RAILROAD: I'll count three — one, two, three.

Entire party rises and files out, with two exceptions. Professors Knapp and Pomeroy remain immovable, eyes glued to the stage, fascinated by the beautiful twirling, swaying forms before them.
